Doctors 'Charged' with Neglect of 'Night Calls'

By SCOTTY SCOTT
Most of the 27 colored physicians of Indianapolis are refusing to make night emergency calls, a large number of protesting residents have informed The Indianapolis Recorder within the past several weeks.

Quite a few of the complainants, apparently exploring the hot issue of socialized medicine, wanted to know why someone doesn't take steps to insure adequate medical attention anytime during the day and night at the moment an emergency of sickness arises.

group to answer the call of duty, the complaining residents ask in tones jagged with bitterness.

One woman asserted she had called the residences of eight physicians late one night when a member of her family became suddenly ill and that each of the doctors flatly refused to answer her tearful plea.

Nor was she able to get any help from the General hospital, the woman said. Fortunately the physician found time to call late the following morning, the woman declared.

In several instances brought to the attention of The Indianapolis Recorder, Dr. Gerald S. Lowery, 1219 E. 16th street willingly and readily responded to the calls for medical service at night.

A check with the Doctors' Answering Service, Blackstone 2636, indicated the reports were well founded. Only three or four of the younger physicians were answering night calls for emergency medical service.

Some Service Available
Dr. E. D. Moten, secretary of the Aesculapian Medical Society of which most of the local doctors are members, said an arrangement had been worked out whereby each physician with exception of the elderly doctors accepted the assignment of answering the night calls for an entire week.

He could be reached through the Doctors' Answering Service, Dr. Moten said.

However, several of the physicians admitted that many of the medics not suffering the handicap of age were refusing to answer the night emergency calls.

Doctor Deplores Situation
One doctor who asked that his name be withheld deplored the situation and said he hoped his colleagues members, said an arrange-

Race Issue World Problem, White Tells Local Meet

By CHARLES S. PRESTON

American race prejudice is hurting the United States' cause among colored peoples throughout the world, Walter White, NAACP executive secretary on leave, told an overflow crowd attending the Monster Meeting at the Senate Avenue YMCA on Sunday.

In fact, he said, "this problem that we call the race problem has today become the No. 1 problem in the entire world."

Reporting on his recent global tour with the World Town Meeting group, White related example after example of harm being done to U.S. prestige by accounts of lynchings and discrimination.

"Every racial clash in the United States becomes front-page news all over the earth," the speaker declared.

He said news of these happenings is being spread not only by the propaganda agencies of Russia, but by Reuters, the great British propaganda agency. Britain is using this material in her efforts to hold on to markets in Asia, he explained.

Numbering himself among those "who believe that the free society of the United States is preferable to the totalitarian government of the Soviet Union or Poland," Mr. White pointed out that pro-U.S. leaders of Asia are greatly handicapped by America's racial record.

Nehru in Dilemma
Prime Minister Nehru of India told him that he does not trust the Russians because "they do not keep their word." At the same time, Nehru reportedly added, the people of India are asking him "why dark-skinned people should trust America."

China has been "lost to the democracies, possibly for several generations," because white Europeans and Americans conducted themselves in that nation with "brutality and racial arrogance," the speaker asserted.

He said that when the World Town Meeting arrived in New Delhi, India, the newspapers carried front-page stories with large headlines welcoming the group. But displayed with equal prominence on the same pages were articles headlined: "Homes of 18 Negroes Bombed by Ku Klux Klan in Birmingham, Ala., U.S.A."

In Ankara, Turkey, he recounted, the story was told of school children who were asked to name a fit punish-

UPLAND—Allen Dufegha, a new student at Taylor University here, is confused.

He is confused about our U. S. democracy, what it is said to be and what it is.

The young college boy is a long way from home. He came to Taylor from Nigeria, West Africa, only this winter.

When he arrived at Taylor, everything was strange—but on the whole, it seemed fine. Not every Nigerian youth gets the chance to pursue his studies at an American university. It was an adventure, a thrilling experience, a promise of a bright future.

And then — Sherman W. Spear, the university's director of publicity, this week told the story of how Allen Dufegha was "welcomed" to Indianapolis, capital city of the great

Faces Murder Charge In Card Game Stabbing

Eric Jones, 27-year-old north-sider who allegedly admitted stabbing to death Friday night of last week Marvin Harris during a fight over a fifty cents "tonk" game, was bound over to the Marion County Grand jury Tuesday of this week on first-degree murder charges.

He appeared before Judge Joseph Howard in Municipal Court III.

In his statement to police, Jones said he stabbed Harris, 2051 N. Kenwood avenue, when the latter tried to prevent him from quitting a card game at a late hour.

Playing in the bedroom of the Jones home, 146 Tacoma Terrace, the two men, according to reports of Jones' wife, Lillian, age 27, engaged in an argument when Jones asked to quit the game because he was "tired and wanted to go to bed."

At the time he was about a dollar ahead and Harris wanted a "chance to get even."

When Jones quit and Harris allegedly started the fight, Mrs. Jones ran out of the house. She said she didn't see the stabbing. Jones told police that Harris picked up a gallon jug, which was partly filled with kerosene, and struck him over his head with it.

Trying to ward off more blows and to get the alleged aggressor off him, Jones said he grabbed a paring knife and swung it one time. He struck Harris in the chest and the fatally wounded man staggered from the house and up the street.

Police found the man lying in an alley near 21st st. and Kenwood ave. He died in an ambulance, en route to General hospital.

On investigation, officers found Jones at the home of his sister, Mrs. Lillian Wade, 132 Tacoma Terrace.

Bleeding from a cut over his right eye, which he said was inflicted when Harris struck him with the jug, Jones related the incident but said he didn't know what he had done with the knife used in the stabbing.

Jones was taken back to the scene of the crime and as he reenacted the altercation he became enraged, according to police.

N.Y. Hospital Parolee Stages Violent Riot

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (ANP)

—A 19-year-old parolee from the Matteawan state hospital for the criminally insane, staged a one-man blitz-raid in south Brooklyn here Sunday, killing four persons and slashing three others, before being slugged into submission by police. The parolee is William Jones, released from the institution in the custody of his mother.

Piecing together the escapade, police say that Jones stole an eight-inch knife from a restaurant near police headquarters and ran down the street demanding "Do you know me?"

The first victim was slashed in the back, but not seriously hurt. Two blocks away, Jones plunged the knife into the chest of an iron worker, killing him instantly. In succession, he stabbed another man just over the heart, killed two more and wounded two more.

Two patrolmen caught up with him, and beat him into semi-consciousness. He was then put in a straitjacket and placed in the Kings County hospital prison ward.

According to police records, Jones was adjudged a wayward minor on Mar. 21, 1947, for purse-snatching. He was committed to Elmira reformatory for an indeterminate sentence and then transferred to Dannemore prison hospital for tuberculosis treatment. Following this he was sent to Cocksackie reformatory.

In November, 1948, he went on a hunger strike after being denied a parole. He was then committed to the Matteawan state hospital for the criminally insane in December, 1948.

Hospital officials say the youth became eligible for release last Wednesday under terms of the commitment and was discharged in the custody of Mrs. Rose Jones, his mother. She told police that she took her son home, but he disappeared the same day.

Ga. Farmer with Rifle Routs Mob of Kluxers

EASTMAN, Ga.—Following the flogging of a tenant farmer, Jesse Lee Goodman last Thursday by a hooded mob, a white farmer Otho Wiggins dispersed seven carloads of hooded Klansmen, firing on them with a .22 caliber rifle. The hooded men fled the scene, Wiggins reported as he fired 16 shots at them from his rifle. He said they fled in all directions. The sheriff of the county, O. B. Peacock refused to answer Wiggins' plea for help, "because his deputies were out of town, his wife was away from home, and he had to attend the baby."

Wiggins quoted the sheriff as saying: "That is none of my business. I don't want the Ku Klux Klan getting after me. I was not sure that the matter came under my jurisdiction."

Goodman, the Negro farm hand, is reported as saying, the hooded men forced the lock on the front door of his cabin in which he, his wife, and four small children lived. Then they took him to the

Jury Selection A Legal Stymie In Watts' Case

By SCOTTY SCOTT

COLUMBUS, Ind. March 9. —Legal maneuvering of grave import is under way as defense and prosecution attorneys jockey for strategic advantage in selection of the jury to try Robert Austin Watts, former Indianapolis truck driver on a first-degree murder charge.

Four days after start of the trial last Monday in the Bartholomew Circuit Court before Judge George W. Long, sincere but extremely careful effort was being made to find the "right" 12 citizens who must decide the perplexing question, "Did Watts pull the trigger of the shotgun that killed Mrs. Mary Lois Burney, Indianapolis housewife, November 12, 1947 in her Northside Indianapolis home, or not?"

Painstaking questioning of almost 200 prospects summoned for jury service by Marion County Prosecutor George S. Dailey and his staff of skilled assistants, contrasted with the line of examination by defense counsel, Lew G. Sharpnack and William S. Dobbins, Columbus court-appointed attorneys, indicated the importance of the case.

Woman Fined for Cutting Attack On Eastside Man

James Hicks, age 32, 2212 Yandess st., was found in his home bleeding profusely from a deep gash in his face and neck by police following a reported shooting Sunday evening.

After an investigation police found that Elizabeth Williams, 2035 Alford st., had inflicted the wound.

They went to the Alford st. address and found a blood-smeared knife and 10 full bottles of wine and 29 bottles of beer.

The Williams woman was arrested for assault and battery and violation of the 1935 Beverage Act. She was fined $25 and costs and judgment was withheld on the beverage act charge when she appeared before Judge Joseph Howard in Municipal Court III Monday.

William Haddox, age 28, 1226 Cornell ave., went to the hospital early Monday morning, suffering a deep cut that extended from the middle of his neck to his left ear.

Henry Cobb, age 42, 1661 N. Arsenal ave., was arrested on charges of assault and battery with intent to murder after Haddox accused him of cutting him.

Cobb's case, which was heard in Municipal Court Monday by Judge Joseph Howard, was continued to March 10.

In naming members of his staff, Charles Brown, 848 California has been a bailiff in Judge Rabb's court since Judge Rabb entered upon his duties as judge of the court and Mrs. Fannie Posey, 1162 W. 28th street has been a recording clerk of the court more than a year. These two appointments are singular in regard to posts held by Negro people associated with the state or county courts of Indiana.

Judge Rabb is a native of the city, graduate of Manual Training high school and Indiana Law School. He is married and the father of two children. He is a member of the Indianapolis Bar Assn. and Masonic lodge.

state of Indiana. It was on March 1, Mr. Spear related, after the Taylor-Indiana Central basketball game. A group of about 25 Taylor students were returning to the university. Allen Dufegha was among them.

Stop at Restaurant

They stopped at the Tee Pee Drive-In Restaurant, 3820 E. Fall Creek Parkway, North Drive, for a bite to eat.

All the college youths who entered first placed their orders. But in the last group of seven was Allen Dufegha.

And when the waitress reached Allen Dufegha, citizen of Nigeria, West Africa, a young college student a long way from home — she refused to take his order.

Such is the report of Mr. Spear. Dufegha's fellow-students protested, they said, both to the waitress and the manager, but in vain. Finally they arose in a body and left the restaurant without waiting for the orders they had placed.

Lord, remember that, when America's Day of Judgment comes! "This boy was utterly unprepared for anything like this in the United States," Mr. Spear continued.

"The students with him said that he felt very badly over the whole thing and that he wept nearly all the way to Upland."

For Allen Dufegha, unschooled in American ways, had conceived the idea that he had disgraced the university!

Students and faculty members alike are doing their utmost to convince the youth that this is not the case and to explain the true state of things, Mr. Spear said.

Presents Bitter Side

For this purpose it is fortunate that Allen Dufegha is at Taylor, a 104-year-old institution that presents the better side of American life.

About 15 Negro students on the campus, out of a total of 600, are not segregated or discriminated against in any way.

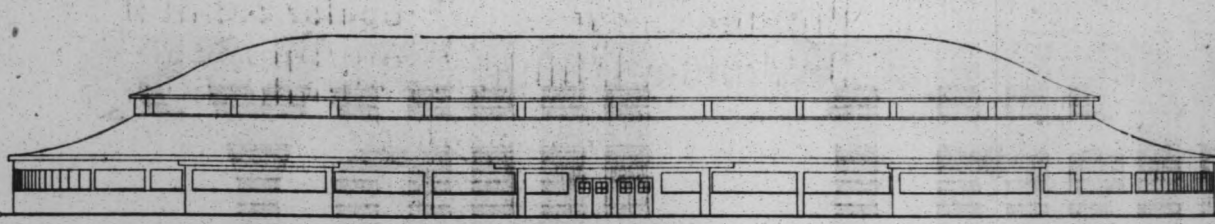

Indeed, the university's most hallowed name is that of Samuel Morris, who also came from Africa to study at Taylor about 1893. He was described as "deeply religious, and with rare qualities of spiritual leadership." Tragically, he died before completing his college course.

Samuel Morris Residence Hall was named in his memory, and for years it was traditional for the senior class to make a pilgrimage to his grave in Fort Wayne.

Another outstanding Negro in the university annals is Rev. Joseph Wade, of the class of 1918, who was responsible for the largest single gift ever made to the institution.

These traditions of the non-discriminatory university may help convince Allen Dufegha that Christianity and the spirit of brotherhood are not entirely dead in the land he has come so far to visit.

Can they entirely erase the memory of that sudden, shocking refusal and public humiliation?

PROPOSED EASTSIDE SKATING RINK—Here is the artist's conception of what the biggest and most modern skating rink in Indiana will look like when it is finished around the last of May. Costing around $125,000, the ultra-modern, fireproof structure was scheduled to start going up here around the first of April.

Skating Rink on Eastside Planned, To Cost $125,000

Plans for the construction of a $125,000 skating rink on the eastside were being completed this week and construction of the new skating hall may begin about April 1.

D. Krieger, real estate investment broker who has been doing business here for the past 37 years, in announcing plans for the rink, said it should be finished and ready for opening by June 1.

The Home Builders Finance Company built it.

An ultra-modern, fireproof building, the proposed rink will occupy several lots between 26th and 27th streets and Schofield ave. and Ralston avenue.

According to the plans, it will be the biggest and most modern rink in the state, Mr. Krieger said. The rink, which normally will be open every day, will be open for rental by private organizations.

ment for Hitler. One school-girl suggested, as the most extreme punishment she could think of: "Turn his skin dark and force him to live among the Americans."

In Egypt, it was reported that the young people are afraid to come to the United States to study.

In Israel, a government leader begged Mr. White to deny the report that Ralph J. Bunche, "whom we regard as one of the world's greatest statesmen," was refused admittance by a hotel in Washington, D.C. And Mr. White sadly had to admit it was true.

One of the most prominent political leaders of the Philippines expressed great bitterness toward the United States because he also was Jimcrowed while a student in Washington, White continued.

Jimcrowed in D.C. The World Town Meeting tour had an ironic conclusion, he said.

"After being treated with complete democracy in 13 world capitals, we were refused service by a hotel in the fourteenth, Washington, because there were Negroes in our group."

Hearty applause greeted White's observation that "Communism can never destroy democracy in the United States. The only thing that can destroy democracy is democracy itself."

"If America does not live up to its pledges of freedom and equality for all, if we do not set our hands to this task of practicing democracy, then I can see only the obliteration of atomic warfare which will wipe out all living things from the face of the earth."

In response to a question about his famous "Look" article on the use of a chemical to whiten skin, Mr. White declared he had merely reported a scientific fact rather than recommending use of the chemical. "Had not the article appeared about the same time as my marriage, it wouldn't have caused any comment whatsoever," he asserted.

He was introduced by William T. Ray, president of the local NAACP branch. F. E. DeFrantz, executive secretary of the Senate Ave. Y, presided. Former State Senator Robert L. Brokenburr made the collection appeal.

Community Center Cagers Get Top Rating

Some Indianapolis high school basketball coach will be awfully lucky to get two groups of Haughville youths calling themselves the Junior Hawks and Little Hawks.

Both hail from the community center at school #63. Being delegates of the city's youngest community center, the groups likewise, are the city's youngest athletic teams.

Despite the thought that a lot of things, including men, institutions, etc., mellow with age, these two groups of youngsters have proved they are the mellowest basketball teams in their class, in the city.

Coached by Arthur D. Taylor, the two teams breezed through their respective city parks leagues undefeated. "They are the only teams in any city parks league to finish the recently-ended season undefeated."

In city parks' competition, each team was in a class by itself. They so completely overshadowed most of the other teams that some just wouldn't play them.

The Junior Hawks, ranked as "intermediates" in city parks' play, are older boys than the Little Hawks who are tabbed "Juniors."

Each team won the title in its respective division in the parks-sponsored Christmas Holiday Basketball tournament.

Members of the Junior Hawks are Odie Tate, Robert Dodd, David Green, O. Jones, Neale Strayhorn and Benny Sanford.

Members of the Little Hawks are Jesse Davis, Ronald Smith, Glen Proctor, Jimmy Smith, William Maxey, Samuel Spredley, Donald Toler and William Scott.

Respected, not only for their exceptional basketball prowess but for their true sportsmanship as well, the Hawks are known throughout Indiana and Illinois.

As a matter of fact, they've been invited to play leading teams in Kokomo, Chicago, and Danville, Illinois. At Kokomo it was a tournament, at Chicago it was also a tournament, but at Danville it was just a single game.

Well, maybe they've had their share of tournaments—they have more than a normal share of trophies, anyway.

In any event they accepted the Danville, Illinois invitation and will travel there for a game March 17. They'll play the city's community center's team.

Just this week—Tuesday—the older team won the Kirshbaum Community Center Invitational Tournament, a three-week affair. They beat the Dodgers, group of Cathedral high school boys, in the final game, 47 to 38.

Truman Picks Next Governor Of Virgin Isles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Morris F. de Castro, 48-year-old member of one of the few native white families of the Virgin Islands, was nominated by President Truman here last week to succeed William H. Hastie as governor of the islands. Hastie was recently elevated to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals bench for the third district.

De Castro, a career government employee, is the first native Virgin Islander to be appointed to the governorship. He entered the government service as a junior clerk in the Sanitation department in 1918. When Hastie left to take over the federal judgeship, de Castro served as acting governor of the islands.

The governor-designate told reporters at a St. Thomas press interview following his nomination that "my nomination by President Truman as the first native governor of the Virgin Islands is a challenge to me as well as to the people of the islands. It is a significant advance in the application of the policy of self-government to the insular possessions of the United States."

ment will be greater than that of am a Virgin Islander my responsibility to administer good government will be greater than that of any of my predecessors."

JOE LOUIS TO SETTLE ISSUE OF "COMEBACK" AROUND MARCH 20
VALDOSTA, Ga. (ANP)—
Joe Louis, retired heavyweight boxing champion, said here last week that he will settle rumors about his return to the ring against reigning champion Ezzard Charles this summer. He plans to make an announcement of his purported
"comeback" around March 20.

Praises Crew Of James Ulrich, Deputy Assessor

Ten members of James Ulrich's real estate reassessment crew have received personal thanks from Roy T. Combs, Center Township assessor. Mr. Combs in his letter said he had received so many compliments about Ulrich's squad that he felt obliged to thank each member personally.

The assessor gave the ten crew members reassessment positions after the Indiana General Assembly passed a law ordering a reassessment of all houses and other buildings all over the state.

Now that reassessment is nearing an end, the men will be returning to their respective jobs . .
or more probably job hunting, they said.

Two of the men before reassessment were bartenders, one was a barber, another an interior decorator and another in the cleaning business. The rest said "Well, we just worked or looked for work."

Included in the crew are William Mitchell, 2317 N. Kenwood; Roy Williams, 814 Locke street; Ben J.
Carter, 2636 Boulevard place; Otto Richardson, 329 N. California street; Charles C. Rhea, 2868 Indianapolis ave.; Lawrence Rhodes, 111 Locke st.; Ernest Bowles, 1614
Orrell; Jesse S. Posey, 1162 W.
8th st.; James Wadsworth, 2848
N. Capitol ave., and William Wed-dard, 610 North Senate ave.

Reassessment is scheduled to end by law on April 1.

Popular Brand of Beverages Sold By Gerald Horne

GERALD HORNE

"When you order Champagne Velvet beer and '76 Ale' you're killing two birds with one stone," says Gerald Horne, popular young salesman.

"You not only get the finest brew with the finest flavor, but you patronize a firm that believes in and practices the idea of FEPC."

Mr. Horne is the only colored beer salesman in the city at the present time, although the sale of beer and ale is exceptionally high in Negro districts.

The makers of Champagne Velvet beer and "76 Ale" plan to give employment to other colored persons if their products are given adequate support in colored districts.

A life-long resident here Mr.
Horne attended Schools 17 and 24 and is a graduate of Attucks high school. He is well known as the former manager of the Boulevard Tap Room and is the brother of Richard Horne, former Wilberforce University football star and presently serving as supervisor of boys at the Plainfield Boys School.

Mr. Horne is married, has three children and lives at 819 Locke street. He was appointed to his present position January 23 this year.

LOS ANGELES BAR ASSOCIATION ADMITS NEGRO ATTORNEY

LOS ANGELES (ANP)—Breaking down its color bar for the first time the Los Angeles Bar association last week admitted a Negro attorney, Thomas L. Griffith.

Griffith is a former president of the local branch of the NAACP which he served 15 years.

Once known as the "boy lawyer," Griffith was recommended for membership in the association by Stevens E. Ego, a former classmate of his at the University of Southern California.

Dr. R. J. Bunche Nominated for Nobel Prize

DR. RALPH J. BUNCHE
OSLO, Norway (ANP)—Dr.
Ralph J. Bunche, director of the UN Trusteeship council, and Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, prime minister of India, were among the 28 persons nominated here last week for the 1950 Nobel Peace prize. Six institutions, all international in scope, were also nominated.

The nomination of Dr. Bunche for the award, which last year was worth $21,889.30, was based on his success in negotiating the armistice settlements in Palestine while serving as UN mediator between the Arabs and the Jews.

The prize, normally awarded in October, was established by the will of the late Alfred B. Nobel Swedish inventor of dynamite, as an annual award to the person or institution who did the most to further the cause of peace throughout the world. Candidates for the award may be nominated by governments of nations; members of the Norwegian Nobel committee; professors of philosophy, economics or current history; institutions or individual previously awarded the prize and several international organizations.

Among others nominated are President Truman, Winston Churchill, Gen. George C. Marshall, former secretary of state; Drs. Herbert V. Evatt, former external affairs minister of Australia and former president of the UN General Assembly; and Robert M. Hutchins, chancellor of the University of Chicago. Last year's award went to Lord Boyd Orr of Scotland, president of the movement for World Federal government, and former head of the UN Food and Agriculture organization.

J. R. Tindall Seeks Nomination For Criminal Court

J. Raymond Tindall, chief clerk of the Criminal Court, will file as a candidate for judge of the Criminal Court, Division No. 1 subject to the Republican primary May 2.

Mr. Tindall, an attorney, attended Butler University and was graduated from the Indiana Law School. He formerly served as a deputy clerk in Superior Court, a deputy prosecutor and special investigator in the prosecutor's office.

He is married, has two children and lives at 317 N. Hamilton ave.
He is a member of the Broadway
Methodist church; Prospect Lodge 714 F. & A. M.; Scottish Rite and the Indianapolis and Indiana Bar Associations.

Hoyt Moore Seeks GOP Nomination For State Senator

A member of the Indiana Senate since 1943, Hoyt Moore, a farmer on South Lynhurst Drive is seeking the nomination for state Senator in the Republican primary of May 2.

Senator Moore says he is seeking the nomination on his record in the Indiana Senate, and his understanding of both rural and urban problems of the county.

He is married and the father of three children a son and two daughters. He is a graduate of Ben Davis high school, a member of the Christ Lutheran church, Masonic lodge, Scottish Rite, Shrine and Lions club.

VICTOR JOSE

Appointed three years ago by the county commissioners to fill the unexpired term of the late Samuel Montgomery, Victor R. Jose will seek the Republican nomination for Marion County assessor in the May 2 primary.

Mr. Jose is a former county attorney and former deputy prosecutor. His experiences as supervisor of township assessors during the reassessment should be of value to all taxpayers when the project shifts to the county level. Mr.
Jose stated.

He is married and the father of three children. He is a member of the Indianapolis and American Bar Associations, several GOP organizations and the North Unitarian church.

EDWIN HAERLE

A former deputy prosecutor, Edwin Haerle, Indianapolis attorney is seeking the Republican nomination for Marion County prosecutor in the May 2, primary election.

Mr. Haerle has practiced law in the city more than 20 years. A former member of the General Assembly, he was author of the bill creating Marion County Criminal court, division 2.

He is a World War II veteran and was a Major in the Air Force.
He is married and lives at 5130
Washington Blvd. He is a graduate of Indiana University, a member of the Presbyterian church, Indianapolis Bar Assn., the Legion Scottish Rite and Shrine.

Peekskill Riot Defendants Win Delay in Big Suit

PEEKSKILL, N. Y. (ANP)—Defendants in the $2,000,000 damage suit filed by Paul Robeson, the Civil Rights congress and others, won a delay last week in Federal Judge Conger's court.

The defendants are the State,
Westchester County and Peekskill

Sewing Skills Boost Family's Ideal Plans

"When you make an ordinary wage you have to scuffle," is the way Mrs. Ella Trice describes her effort and that of her husband Virgil G. Trice, of 2265 N. Oxford street, to give their children a college education.

The couple has succeeded and Mrs. Trice a seamstress who started her sewing career at the Planner House in the class of Mrs.
Ruth Murray, in 1936 tells the story.

In the beginning she made only aprons, but five years later she was making many types of dresses and coats. And very recently one of her customers brought to her woolen goods of a value of more than $110.00 to be fashioned into Easter garments.

Long since she first started sewing she has helped to pay tuition for her children and to buy their college books. She has made also coats, suits and dresses for the girls of the family. There are two girls, Mary Louise, age 22 and Ethel Marie, age 20. The son of the family Virgil G. Jr. is age 24.

Virgil graduated from Purdue University, was an Ensign in the U.S. Navy and returned to Purdue for a M.A. degree in Chemical Engineering. He is now working at Argonne National Laboratory, Chicago. He is associated with the building of pilot plants to separate atomic materials.

Mary Louise attends Kentucky
State College and is in her second year at the Kentucky school.
Ethel Marie is majoring in Home Economics at Butler University in this city. She attended the Planner House sewing classes with her mother at one time and her interest in sewing has continued throughout the years.

The suit filed by Robeson and his co-plaintiffs conflicts with the present Westchester Grand Jury probe of the anti-Negro, anti-Semitic riots that shook the nation last summer. Atty. Bella Absug, counsel for the plaintiffs, argued against the Judge's opinion which postponed the case until the grand jury has finished its investigation.

Atty. Absug declared, "It has never been held that because a grand jury is considering a matter all other courts must defer their own business. If the contention of the defendants were upheld, all other tribunals having jurisdiction, including especially the Federal courts, could be paral-yzed while they proceeded with their own investigation of their own conduct — the very conduct complained of in this action."

An Important Message From Former Y. W. C. A. Executive

MY PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATION
"If I were to discuss the depth and extent of the experiences that I have enjoyed in my professional association with the thousands of girls and women who are the fellowship of women and girls of the Y. W. C. A., more time and space would be required than can conveniently be indulged. It has been with a feeling of gratitude to the association and the many citizens and friends of this community and with a feeling of humility to God for the simple talents with which He endowed me that I have served the Indianapolis Y. W. C. A. and have shared a good half of my life to this point within a network of relationships that will gather memories of pleasant experiences that have been mutually satisfying to those who have 'assented,' to the purpose of the Y. W. C. A.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF DIRECTOR
The responsibilities required of the Phyllis Wheatley Branch Director, responsible for the administration of Program, budget, plant and equipment are not easy nor always pleasant, but there has been a deep personal satisfaction in giving one's best efforts in concert with others pursuing the high calling of our Christian Purpose.

OBLIGATION TO THE COMMUNITY
The fact that the present Board of Directors effected the change in the administration and reorganization of Y. W. C. A. affairs in such a drastic manner that many are confused, should serve to remind us that we have at all times a deeper obligation to the many people we serve and to the community as a whole and that our thoughts and the pulsation of our hearts should be shared in such a way that we shall become a truly "inclusive fellowship" to the end that every member within the association and friend within the local community will come to feel that he or she has a stake in our Christian Movement and may help to determine its destiny.

MY THANKS TO THE CITIZENS
I am grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Public and their many youth who have given loyal support and who have believed in the effort I have made in my devotion to the Y. W. C.
A. and my interest in the welfare of this city."

Mrs. Louise Terry Batties is a graduate of Butler University with A. B. and Master of Arts Degrees. She has taken additional graduate study at Chicago University and Indiana University. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority and holds a membership in the American Association of group workers. Prior to her executive position she served as director of younger girls building the department from 300 in 1934 to 2,000 by 1944. She has had splendid cooperation from the public schools, churches, civic and social clubs over the city, state, and various parts of the country. From 1944 to 1950 Mrs. Batties has served as Executive Director of Phyllis Wheatley Y. W. C. A.

By RICHARD C. HENDERSON

Before launching off into this week's column, I happily take time to comply with a request which, believe it or not, came from at least six different people — to print again the collect for Ash Wednesday, which, you may recall, I used last year during the Lenten season.

The prayer has a special meaning for me, because it is the one used by the novice master at the Monastery of St. Mary and St. John for my penance following a confession. I had to say it before each chapel service, before receiving Holy Communion, and before all private prayers. Try it, it really does have some efficacy if pondered over.

Here it is:

"Almighty and everlasting God, Who hastest nothing that Thou hast made, and dost forgive the sins of all those who are penitent; Create and make in us new and contrite hearts, that we, worthy lamenting our sins and acknowledging our wretchedness, may obtain of Thee, the God of all mercy, perfect remission and forgiveness; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

Jordan Hall of the Phyllis Wheatley YWCA was attractively decorated last Sunday afternoon when the Edward S. Gaillard American Legion Auxiliary 107 sponsored its annual tea.

Naturally a color scheme of red, white, and blue was followed, with a table decorated predominantly in white flanked by one covered with red and adorned with a flag and another decorated in blue with a large and small soldier representing World Wars I and II. From a huge background sign inscribed "Edward S. Gaillard Auxiliary No. 107" blue streamers ran to the blue table, while red ones were attached to the table decorated in red.

Red, white, and blue flowers and white candles further decorated the service table, and the table was made doubly attractive by the beautiful canapés prepared by the group's caterers, with Mrs. OPAL HILL, chairman of refreshments, assisted by Mesdames WILMA SUTER, HAZEL MANLOVE, and NAN WHITE.

Mesdames MARY BATTLES, MATTIE JAMES, and ADELAIDE HENDERSON poured, while Mrs. TERESA S. SANDERS was in charge of the well-arranged program.

Miss NORMA M. WOODS, daughter of Mrs. Henderson, received the "silver tea" and program last Sunday afternoon in Bethel AME Church.

The lace-covered serving table was centered with a large bouquet of white mums with tall, white tapers on each side. At each end of the table were beautiful silver tea service sets presided over by Mesdames Minnie SeNour and Ollie Skelton. Mesdames Rosa Skelton, Mamie Evans, and Alberta Carver assisted.

Assorted hors d'oeuvres, candies, cake, and tea were served. Appearing on program were Mesdames Edith Kirkpatrick, Prentess Smith, Rosa Skelton, Fannie Lawrence, Pauline McDougal, Augusta McElwee, Anita Weathersby, Christine Lee, and Janie Chandler and Messrs. William Smith and Ned Stiegers.

Mrs. Blanche Smith had charge of the program and presented light classical music during the tea.

Each guest had been sent a tiny apron with her invitation, which was to be returned with a penny for each inch of the guest's waistline stuck in the apron pocket.

Mrs. Lula Compton received and registered the guests.

Members of the club participating were Mesdames Fannie Woodson, president; Rosa Skelton, Minnie SeNour, Ollie Skelton, Mamie Evans, Gertrude Paige, Lula Compton, Ada Maddex, Blanche Smith, and Alberta Carver and Miss Betty Ann Dorsey.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. William R. Smith and Mesdames Dessie Stewart, Madeline Smith, Edith Kirkpatrick, and Cora Starks, all of Columbus; Mrs. Nellie Colbert, North Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harmon, Washington; and Mesdames Alberta Sadler and Christine Lee, Indianapolis.

SWANAGAN, CARL HUGHES, ROGER LYONS, SIGMUND JONES, and LORENZO PRITCHARD.

Mrs. ELLA HENDERSON is ill in her home, 2035 Boulevard pl., where she has been confined for the past two weeks. Friends may call.

Mr. and Mrs. AUBREY KUY-KENDALL had as recent guests Mr. and Mrs. EDGAR G. BROWN, Washington, D. C.

This week-end affords a musical treat I'm sure Indianapolis will hasten to accept — the appearance of LOIS TOWLES, young pianist rapidly gaining world recognition as a virtuoso. I have not seen her program yet, but understand it contains enough Chopin to satisfy everyone.

At any rate, the fact that Artur Rubinstein, recognized by most critics as being the very finest pianist in the world, considered the young woman of sufficient merit to coach her for a whole summer, should be an indication of what we may expect Friday night in the auditorium of Crispus Attucks high school. Hope to see many people there!

A new entry in my date book is the recital by students of FORST W. WILSON in Simpson Methodist Church on Friday night, March 24, at 8:15. Mrs. DOLTHEA HART will be accompanist.

Legislators and other prominent citizens well versed on the subject will be guest speakers.

Rev. H. A. Perry of St. John's AME Church will deliver an address at the formal opening of the FAC $40,000 building fund drive. Committee chairman who have pledged to raise $500 will be special guests.

Red Cross free chest X-rays will be offered at the club home next Monday from 6 to 10. This service is open to everyone, particularly to residents of the immediate community.

Pictures of the Negro History Week exhibits will be shown at the regular FAC meeting. This is an important meeting, and all affiliated groups are asked to send their representatives. Members of clubs which have become new members since last month's meeting will be present and will be formally accepted as FAC members.

The Gay Caballeros, who meet in the Aron room each Monday night, will sponsor a fish fry and Kentucky oyster supper at the home of Mrs. Ruby Griffith, 516 North Senate ave., Saturday night. Persons attending the Twelve-Mo dance are invited after the dance is over. On the committee in charge are Messrs. James Willingham, Lamar Peterson, Bervin Caesar, Alvia Coleman, and Lee Miller.

The Holly Girls will meet in the home of Mrs. Roslyn Jackson, 2341 Hovey st., Friday night at 8.

Included on the FAC home calendar are a special dinner in the auditorium on Thursday night of this week, and the Wyleway bridge club banquet Saturday night in the auditorium and Aron room. The Big Wigs will meet in the office.

On Sunday the FAC Alaska bus tourists will gather in the Aron room at 2 for four pictures and review of plans. The Las Filles Career Girls are sponsoring a tea in the auditorium.

Scheduled for Tuesday are meetings of the House of Lords, Elton Girls and the Modern Matrons.

WONDERFUL FOR CHILDREN Syrup of Black-Draught is made of pure, imported herbs especially to be given as directed to children of all ages. The spicy, pleasant flavor is growing more and more popular. When your child needs a laxative for occasional constipation, do as others do, give Syrup of Black-Draught. And for adults, Black-Draught, powder or granulated, costs a penny or less a dose. Get the form you prefer from your nearest dealer.

SYRUP OF BLACK-DRAUGHT

TO SING HERE: Indianapolis is due for a treat when Andrew B. Frierson, rich baritone, will be presented in recital in Simpson Methodist Church, 11th and Missouri streets, on Thursday night, March 16, at 8:15 under auspices of Barnes Chapel Methodist Church.

Mr. Frierson, a student at Juilliard Conservatory of Music in New York, has made his Carnegie Hall debut, and will make an appearance in Town Hall, New York, on April 14.

Tickets are on sale for the affair at the Indianapolis Recorder office.

Uh um-m-m Syrup of Black Draught!

Not as amazing as it may seem, because a young child knows that it is good. Children never mind taking Syrup of Black-Draught when a laxative is needed to aid elimination. Syrup of Black-Draught has a spicy flavor! It's pure! It's scientifically prepared from the finest imported herbs known for centuries for laxative use.

Syrup of Black-Draught is increasing its popularity steadily. So, do as others do when youngsters are crying, fretful and out-of-sorts because they need a laxative, give Syrup of Black-Draught. You will be satisfied with the positive, pleasant results.

Remember, for grown-ups, Black-Draught is sold in powdered or granulated form; costs less than one cent a dose.

You can always get Black-Draught at the dealer's nearest you.

HAVE ANNUAL DINNER: The Be Bop Society of Indianapolis sponsored its second annual dinner and semi-formal dance last Saturday night in the Flanner House. The set of photos above are the result of camera action at both the affairs.

ciety and toastmaster at the dinner; and Jack Tracy, Chicago assistant editor of Downbeat magazine, principal speaker.

O'Bannon and Mr. Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. Tracy, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Green.

In Picture No. 4 a group of the club members join in a couple of "scat vocals." They are Augustus Gaines, Kirk, Green, Earl Wilson, and Donald Hardman. The new officers, inaugurated during the dinner, line up for Picture No. 5. They are James Shropshire, assistant treasurer; Earl Wilson, business manager; Willis Kirk, president; Fred Anderson, vice-president; William Hill, treasurer; William Bell, assistant secretary; and Jim Cummings, corresponding secretary.

Miss Doris Duncan (left foreground in No. 6) was flashed as she went out for a turn in a dance with Buford Payne, right. Also in the picture are Jimmy McCombs and Miss Garnetta Noel and Richard Bentley and Miss Christine Majors.

Another group of young ladies stopped dancing long enough to pose for Picture No. 8. They are (seated, left to right) Misses Alymar Hardman and Clara Willis, Mrs. Marian Graves Green, and Miss Mary Overstreet. Standing are Miss Florence Mitchell and Mesdames Katie Thompkins Hill, Elinor Tracy, and Charlotte Malone Bell. (PHOTOS BY JIM FOX.)

Music Magazine Editor Stuns Local "Be Bop" Enthusiasts

"Bop is dead." With this statement Jack Tracy, Chicago assistant editor of "Downbeat" magazine, stunned members of the Be Bop Society of Indianapolis and almost upset the organization's second annual dinner last Saturday night in the Flanner House.

"The name 'be bop', as applied to the modern music played by 'Bird' Parker and Dizzy, is dead, and that's good," the editor told the group. "The name 'bop' has been kicked around so that in most circles it isn't respected."

"However," he added, "now that the fun of ridicule is gone, bop can live a normal life. It's experienced the growing pains and is no longer the black sheep of jazz."

Also speaking during the dinner program were Norman L. Merrifield, director of music at Crispus Attucks high school; Jim Lowe, WIRE disc jockey; and Nilo Hovey, Jordan College of Music.

Honoree guests included Charles A. Henzie, Butler university and Jordan College of Music; Henry Vance, local restaurateur; and Mrs. Jack Tracy, Chicago.

Relief From Monthly Pains A New Sensation

For Scores of Happy Girls and Women

A new and wonderful experience lies ahead for many a girl and woman. No more need to rely on pain-killers for mere temporary "dulling" of pains and cramps due to functional disturbances. Now, by the use of Cardiol each month, you can get rid of the modern type—aid that actually tends to establish in many women a muscular action free from cramping to bring you grateful comfort every month. Don't wait to try this blessed boon. Ask your druggist for Cardiol. Used successfully by thousands. (Say: "card-you-ey")

Voice of the Eastside

By MARY P. McGUIRE

With the stormy March, I am having stormy days with wind and clouds and changing skies. Again my old pal, Walker Myles, came to the rescue last week to pinch hit at last minute's notice. I am certain a change does my readers some good sometimes.

Mr. McGuire was a very sick man last week, but on Monday he was much improved, although still on the recovery ward.

Well, here is some more bitter with the sweet: federal income tax deadline March 15th, St. Patrick's Day on March 17, and the Red Cross drive all month.

Sunday afternoon will mark the close of Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Clark's first anniversary at New Bethel Baptist Church. Rev. D. B. Dudley will preach the anniversary sermon, and a reception will follow at 5. Mrs. Mary E. Hatcher, the general chairman, expects a large number out Sunday afternoon, including many of the city's prominent persons.

After several weeks of holding noon-day prayer services in St. Mark's Baptist Church, the group announces services will be held in various homes, with Mrs. Annie Mae Horton as leader of the Eastside Prayer Band. On Monday a "ordial invitation" is extended to all to attend the prayer services at the home of Mrs. Rachel Hibbitt, 2518 Martindale ave., from noon to 1.

Attend the noon-day prayer service, and it will do you good.

Well, it seems your old columnist is about to get back in line with the ushers of the city. Last week she was called to Mt. Zion Free Will Baptist Church to line up a group of ushers.

She will also appear for the Greater St. John usher board in April — and that reminds me, I must soon return to my own board in order to practice doing the things I tell other ushers to do.

Many missionary groups are expected to make the tea of the missionary society of Greater St. Luke's Baptist Church a success next Thursday afternoon from 2 to 5 in the home of Mrs. Brownie Mae Sherron, 2054 Bellefontaine st. Mrs. Ethel Hamel, the president, says a welcome is extended to all.

In spite of the heavy program on the eastside last Monday, the Eastside Civic and Better Business League had a nice attendance in the lovely home of Mrs. Beatrice Holfield. Books were presented by John Baker for 1950, while James Horton gave a report of projected members to date with Cary D. Jacobs paying $10 on second share.

Miss Verdell Moore was added to the membership. Mrs. Ella Mae Holfield gave a report of the tea given Sunday, Feb. 26, by Mrs. Ada Douglass.

A surprise purse was given to the president, your columnist, by

By REV. FRANK C. LOWRY
For ANP

1. There are many Christian people who can be found in the Dress Parade, but when the battle gets hot, they soon run off in the shade.

2. Those who seek the vain-glorious route will soon find that the "Old Rugged Cross" roads don't very well suit.

3. Christ could not have won the fight for us in the Garden of Gethsemane if He had decided to stay on the peaceful shores of Galilee.

4. There are hiding rocks and treacherous shoals that a Christian has to wade out to meet before he or she is worthy to enjoy the "Mercy Seat."

5. Christians are never justified in joining a sit-down strike, because their matchless exemplar had to do a lot of things He did not like.

6. Christianity is that constant march onward and upward that often strikes an unpopular chord, but whose devotion for the cause of righteousness are ever determined to be heard.

7. These would rather evade the limelight and help a fallen brother to rise, for in their highest thinking, this is the noblest prize.

8. To them, it is their honest conviction that liturgies and ceremonies in worship have their rightful place, but to really make men feel God's power, one must be saved by Grace.

9. God even can't cleanse this old world with its tremendous weight of sin and woe, if you and I are going to run out on Him just for dress parade and show.

10. Every day the outlook seems darker to find men and women who will take a stand, despite the obvious overwhelming darkness that is sweeping down upon our land.

11. In church and state, and where we look, there is contempt toward God and His precious Book.

12. There is but one way out, and that way is sure; Christians must get out of the Dress Parade, if our World is to endure.

Judge Hueston Enters Mayo Clinic in Minn.

WASHINGTON (ANP)—Judge
William C. Hueston, grand commissioner of Education IBPOE of the World, entered Mayo hospital last Tuesday for preventive surgery.

Judge Hueston went to Rochester, Minn., two weeks ago, along with other Elk leaders to hold a pow-wow at the bedside of the rand exalted ruler, J. Finley Wilson, who is a patient at Mayo Clinic.

While there the educational commissioner went through the clinic for a physical check-up which revealed that three operations, one major and two minor, were necessary to improve his health.

It was reported from the hospital that Mr. Wilson is still suffering great pain. It was learned from reliable sources that the rumors regarding the amputation of his leg are erroneous.

Among the grand officers who conferred with the "Napoleon of Edom" at the hospital last week were Judge Hueston, Washington;
the grand secretary, James B. Kelsey of Birmingham; the grand treasurer, Theodore Green of Akron, O.; the grand medical director, Dr. Carter Marshall, New Haven, Conn.; the grand commissioner of civil liberties, Hobson R.
Teynd of Philadelphia; and the grand director of publicity Charles McClane of Stetson, Pa.

Why didn't Charles Gorman want to be seen with Virginia Drivers? Cuttin' out on someone, my-be? Lois Buggs and Bobby selves. Well, how nice!

Does Cornell Willis really think the turning point is near, for Houston is about to fade on out.

I bet the golden bells may ring soon for Janie

Norman Overstreet has finally got wise to himself and realized that Geraldine Tate is all for him.
What news! . . . Imagine two jerks like David Young and

Hanover Player Crashes Record Of Johnny Wilson

Andy Taff, stellar cage artist of Anderson College, revived an old argument as he finished the session with 601 points last week,
"breaking" Johnny Wilson's state college scoring record of 656.

The catch was that Taff took 25 games to amass his total, while Wilson played only 23 contests in setting his mark in 1947-48.

Thus Taff's game average was 24.0, well below the 24.6 of Jumpin' John.

We used to argue about this when Wilson was in college, and will only repeat that if total points are to be the measuring-rod, then the schedule-makers should get an assist.

Taff's final performance was good for 21 markers against Anderson College. Hanover won the game,
68-60, and with it the Hoosier Conference crown. Anderson finished third.

Chuck Harris, septa Raven center, was held to eight points through close guarding by Ed Orrill of the Panthers. Russ Smith got three free throws for the Ravens.

Taylor University's Trojans, meanwhile, took the measure of Earlham, 68-65. Wilfred Doty scored 12 points and Bob Ewing nine for the losing Quakers.

"THINK CAREFULLY . . . FRIEND"

Teen Talk

By THE SNOOPER

As usual, quite a few swains and sub-debs drifted to the hop at the Walker Casino last Saturday night, and it was gone enough. . . . There were many fine babes there, such as Peggy Cobb, Katie Hilliard, Jokey Moore, and Barbara Wilson, but we can forget the fellows.

Ellen Scott was constantly watching the doors for Rudolph Wilson, but he failed to show up — probably was out with Carolyn Edwards. . . . "Shot" Whitlock's honeybunch, Dot Quarrels, cut out on him somethin' awful with Charles
"Big Time" Moore. Is he a turkey? . . .

Freddie Smith and Norma Jones just do love to play the corners. I wonder why. By the way, kids, you didn't have to eat your cheese and "baloney" sandwich on the sly — it's no disgrace to eat at a dance. . . . Franklin Taylor took advantage of Fred Edwards' absence. Did he throw much bull down Gerrie Williams' path?

As usual the Snooper got a yeful of sneaks at the Walker lick Monday afternoon. . . . Fred Wilson and Allen Phelps got together after he received a hint that the hen was dizzy about him.
Barbara Baker, tryin' to gain popularity, went out of her way to attract William Broadus's attention. Seems like she oughta know she couldn't gain popularity like that. . . . Roberta Baker was seen comin' on strong with Clifton Lewis.

Why didn't Charles Gorman

STAR PLAYERS, COMEDY TEAM SIGN CLOWNS' CONTRACTS

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Ray
Neil, second-baseman and Henry "Speed" Mercant have recently signed 1950 contracts with Pollock, owner of the Indianapolis Clowns announced late last week.

The Clowns are in their spring training camp here, where Pollock announced that the famous diamond comedy team of King Tut and Ralph "Spec" Bebop have also signed new contracts.

King Tut has been a funmaker with the team long enough to become almost a national institution. While Bebop the "pint-size" comedian discovered last year will begin his second season with the team.

Merchant is capable of playing outfield and first base or taking turn on the mound and he is one of the circuit's speediest men on the base paths. Neil was among the ten top hitters of the league last season, hitting .347 and has just returned from playing winter baseball in Venezuela.

Other players signed by owner Pollock include William Dumpson, pitcher from Orangeburg, S. C.
Dumpson, age 19, 6 feet 2 inches starred for Port Washington high school, Long Island, doubling in the field for three years. In his senior year in high school he hit
.486.

Seaf Buchanan

Funeral services for Seaf Buchanan, age 63, 416 Blake st., who died Sunday, Feb. 26, in General hospital, were held Wednesday, March 1, in Patton Funeral home.
Burial was in Floral Park cemetery.

He was a retired employee of the Citizens Gas & Coke Utility Co.
where he worked 15 years.

Survivors include a son, Walter Buchanan, Detroit, and a sister, Mrs. Pinky Fitzgerald, Franklin, Tenn., and two grandchildren.

UN Slavery Probers Include African Woman Journalist

By ALVIN E. WHITE

NEW YORK (ANP)—Sen. Jane Vialle, Negro woman journalist, who represents one million Africans of Ubangi-Shari (French Equatorial Africa) in the Council of the Republic, upper house of the French Parliament, was one o
he committee that heard the report on outright slavery in the United States, at an UN hearing Thursday.

The report was made by the Workers Defense league of which Rowland Watts is secretary. A special committee of the UN which has been appointed to study slavery in all of its forms, including forced labor, peonage and survivals of pure slavery, includes Prof.
Poblete Tronscoe of Chile, Bruno Lasker of the United States and C. W. W. Greenidge of the United Kingdom with Sen. Vialle.

Sen. Vialle was born in the Congo and educated in Paris. She has lived in France and French Equatorial Africa. Before the war she was a staff writer of the Opera Mundi News agency. She joined the underground resistance movement in Marseilles in 1940 was arrested in 1943 when the Germans captured the city and spent the next year in a concentration camp and a prison.

In 1945 she entered politics making a 9,000-mile speaking tour through Senegal, Ivory Coast, U-bangi-Shari and Chad. Her speeches on the educational and economic needs of the African people made such an impressio

she was elected to the Council of the Republic the next year as one of the two representatives from Ubangi-Shari. In 1948, she was re-elected. The territory she and her colleague represent is larger than France itself and five times as large as New York State. Its population is a little over a million.

The report which the committee heard shifted the group's study of bondage as still practiced in the Middle East, Africa and South American countries to illegal peonage and forced labor in states like Connecticut, Florida, Maine, Georgia, Arkansas, Texas and California. The list of charges was entitled "Legal and Illegal Forms of Forced Labor in the U. S."

I. U. TRACK MAN SETS NEW INDOOR SHOT-PUT MARK

BLOOMINGTON — Jim Robertson of Indiana University's track team set a new fieldhouse and meet record for the shotput as I. U. devoted Purdue 65-49 in an in-door track meet here recently.

Robertson heaved the 16-pound weight a distance of 51 feet 7 1/2 inches. Negro athletes swept the event for Indiana, Clifton Anderson taking second and John Robertson (Jim's brother) third.

Lively Bryant, former Indianapolis Attacks ace and now a sorho-more at Purdue, placed third in the high jump.

Community Grocer Serves Patrons Best

The community grocer, whom the average housewife solely depends on for her through-the-week shopping and in most instances gets her week-end groceries from, obviously realizes that the big stores and super markets are big competition, and is extending more and more services and lower prices to keep in the running as competitors.

Each week a glance at the big stores' big ads in newspapers, and then at the amateur hand-painted signs on your neighborhood grocer's window, reveals that the small grocer is really giving the chains and independent markets a real run for their money.

In their rapidly-expanding service departments, they offer delivery service. A housewife with small children—or any person for that matter—simply has to phone her community grocer and give her order. Within a reasonable length of time a delivery boy hasprate cars and by train.

brought her order to her door and will place it on the kitchen table. So the housewife hasn't had to hire a baby sitter, or anything. She kept right on with her household chores.

But delivery is only one of the many special services one gets at the neighborhood grocer. Most small grocers have arranged their businesses on the serve-yourself pattern, eliminating the time-consuming wait-your-turn set-up.

Midwest Meet of Young People at Christ Temple

More than 600 visitors from all parts of the Middle West thronged Christ Temple last Sunday to participate in a program conducted by young people.

Center of the activities was the Young People's Council of the Pentecostal Assemblies of the World, with Reginald Jones chairman.

Host was the Pentecostal Young People's Union of Christ Temple. The speakers included Rev. Morris Golden, the church pastor. The visitors came from St. Louis, Detroit, Cleveland, Louisville and other centers in chartered busses, length of time a delivery boy hasprate cars and by train.

Workers Report In Membership Drive of NAACP

The question of whether Indianapolis will continue its support of the NAACP appeared to be raised this week by lagging returns in the annual membership drive.

By Wednesday—halfway point in the drive which is to last until March 15—only 330 memberships had been turned in. The sum of $784.50 had been raised.

The goal this year is 3,000 members. When adopted, it was regarded as realistic—if anything, slightly on the conservative side. Branch leaders and Bernard Brown, national office representative, were frankly worried over the state of affairs that found a little more than one-tenth of the quota realized with half the time gone.

"The time has come to sound the alarm," said William T. Ray, branch president. "If we in Indianapolis want first-class citizenship in jobs, restaurants, theaters, schools and elsewhere, we must be prepared to pay a small price and to support the organization fighting for these goals."

Major event in the drive this week was a meeting at the Senate Avenue YMCA following the Monster Meeting. Walter White, national secretary on leave, addressed the NAACP group and awarded certificates of honor to outstanding workers.

A tea was held following the session. The regular monthly meeting of the Indianapolis branch was scheduled for the Senate Y on Friday, March 10. Report meetings will be held at the office, 510 N. West st., on Monday and Wednesday.

Mrs. Jessie Jacobs, branch executive secretary, will be interviewed on the membership drive by Bill Powell over Station WISH at 5 p.m. Saturday. The interview, originating at the Walker Coffee Pot, will be on Mr. Powell's "Ebony Etchings" program. Mr. Powell is co-chairman of the campaign.

Jacobs Team Leads The team captained by Mrs. Jacobs continued to lead in the drive with 54 memberships turned in. Second was Mr. Ray's team with 44.

Miss Katherine Hancock's team was third with 37, Mrs. Naomi Gillespie's had 35 and Ernest Dix's team had turned in 26.

Mr. Dix had a slim hold on individual honors with 26 members, while Mrs. Ollie Weeks, chairman of the drive, had 25 and Mr. Ray had 24.

Other leading individuals included Miss Hancock, 19; Mrs. Helen Adams, 16, and Rufus C. Kuykendall, 14.

The branch leaders pointed out that 52 persons have enrolled themselves as captains and workers in the drive. If all of these will bestir themselves in the remaining week, and the public understands the importance of fighting for civil rights, the goal will be reached, it was said.

HANK THOMPSON MOVED TO THIRD BY LEO DUROCHER

PHOENIX, Ariz. (ANP) — New York Giant Manager Leo Durocher is trying Second Baseman Henry Thompson at third to fill the gap left by Third Baseman Sid Gordon who was traded to the Boston Braves and make room for Second Sacker Eddie Stanky.

Outfielder Monte Irvin is working out in left field. Durocher definitely plans to make use of Irvin's "strongest" throwing arm this season.

LUKE EASTER WILL NOT PLAY FIRST BASE

TUCSON, Ariz. (ANP) — Outfielder Luke Easter, batting sensation of the Pacific Coast league last season, will not play first base if he wants to start in a Cleveland Indian uniform. He must capture an outfield position. That is the expressed opinion of Manager Lou Boudreau. Boudreau said the first base position has been reserved for Mickey Vernon. "I haven't thought of Easter as a candidate for first base," Mr. Baseball of '48 explained.

Bureau of Census Reports Growth Of Population

WASHINGTON (ANP) — The Negro population of this country has grown at a more rapid rate than the white population in the last 10 years, according to figures released here last week by Dr. J. R. Houchins, census bureau specialist in Negro statistics.

The figures show that between April, 1940, to April, 1947, the non-white population increased 11.6 percent against the white increase of 7.5 percent. In round figures, this increase is from 13,454,405 to 15,017,000. Negroes make up nearly all the non-white population, though American Indians and Asiatics are counted in the group.

An interesting set of figures revealed a greater relative improvement in the average income or earnings of Negroes. From pre-war 1939 to 1948 the median earnings of Negro males rose from $500 to $1,000 a year, while for whites it was from $1,200 to $2,000 a year. During the same period non-white women received an increase from $200 to $700 against the $700 to $1,000 for white women.

Doctors' Calls

leagues would in the light of self-interest cooperate to improve matters.

"Otherwise," he cautioned, "an unfavorable public reaction would increase the demand for socialized medicine."

On the other side of the picture, one young physician who conscientiously answers night calls, came to the defense of himself and colleagues.

"In many cases the night emergency is not so grave as the interested persons permit themselves to believe. If doctors are reluctant to answer any and all night calls, it is fairness to them it should be considered that records show that 70 percent of the persons demanding night medical service do not pay the doctor his fee."

A spokesman for the Indiana Medical Association thought some consideration should be given the fact that there is a shortage of Negro physicians in Indianapolis on the basis of what medical authorities consider a fairly ideal situation.

Roughly there is one white physician in the city for each 1,000 population. There is only one Negro physician in the city for each lance of the jury selection. Overshadowing all routine questions by the prosecution was the sine qua non test, "Do you believe in capital punishment?"

The defense wanted to know without equivocation, "Have you unchangeably made up your mind as to the guilt or innocence of Robert Austin Watts?"

Race Prejudice Explored

The defense attorneys worked in the shadows of the satanic specter of race prejudice. Because of the race angles in the case, a white woman as the victim and a Negro man as the accused, they felt a duty to probe with unerring accuracy for symptoms of race prejudice, in the interest of justice and fairness to both sides and the deals of democratic justice.

So far as the principals in the case are concerned, everyone is meticulously scrupulous in seeing that every point of law is observed in the light of United States Supreme Court rulings.

That high tribunal brought the Indiana judiciary up with a sharp jerk when it ordered a retrial for Watts in June 1949, reversing his conviction of the Burney murder and electric chair sentence.

In ordering the retrial the high court had reversed the Indiana Supreme Court, which had upheld his conviction and sentence of the first trial, held in January 1948.

The U. S. Supreme Court decision re-affirmed two important issues allegedly handled carelessly in the Watts case.

The court found: (1) Watts had been denied legal counsel within reasonable time and (2) he had been subjected to unlawful delay in being charged formally with the crime and being brought into court.

Another important issue heard by the high court though not passed upon by it, was decided later at Shelbyville by Special Judge William F. Marshall, Rushville as the way was being prepared for

Of course the ideal would be for people not to be bothered with getting sick. But if it is inevitable, and it is, the next best advice is to get sick at night. You're under present conditions if you don't get sick at night. You might get a doctor and you might not."

the second trial now being held. Introduced in the first trial by Indianapolis attorney Henry F. Perry, and reintroduced by first trial attorneys, Emerson Brunner and Warren Brown, Shelbyville. The question of the systematic exclusion of Negroes from the Marion county grand jury which indicted Watts was heard by Judge Marshall last October.

Judge Marshall ruled, after hearing more than 40 witnesses that Negroes had been systematically excluded from Marion county grand jury service and therefore invalidated the original indictment.

A Shelby county grand jury returned the first-degree murder indictment against Watts in the Burney case on which he is now being tried.

The original confession of Watts, pronounced after he had been held and questioned for six days and nights, will not be reintroduced by the prosecution. He has sufficient evidence to win a conviction and death chair sentence.

Although no fingerprints of Watts were found in the Burney case following discovery of the laying by her husband, Herschel Burney, and no eyewitnesses can identify Watts as the slayer, Mr. Dailey and his staff believe the evidence they have will place Watts at the scene of the crime at the time it was committed.

Watch Senators' Voting Records, NAACP Urges

WASHINGTON (ANP) — Keep your eyes on the voting record of the 32 senators up for reelection in November, 1950, was the warning set out by the NAACP.

Voters living in the states where their senators' terms expire this year should be very concerned with the way they vote for legislation which affects their future and their welfare.

These senators are Lister Hill, Ala.; Carl Hayden, Ariz.; J. William Fulbright, Ark.; Sheridan Downey, Calif.; Eugene D. Millikin, Colo.; Brien McMahon, Conn.; Claude Pepper, Fla.; Walter F. George, Ga.; Glen H. Taylor, Idaho; Scott W. Lucas, Ill.; Homer E. Capehart, Ind.; Bourke B. Hickel, Iowa; Clyde M. Reed, Kan.; Garrett L. Withers, Ky.; Russell B. Long, La.; and Millard Tydings, Md.

Others who are seeking reelection are Forrest C. Donnell, Mo.; Pat McCarran, Nev.; Charles W. Tobey, N.H.; Herbert H. Lehman, N.Y.; Clyde R. Hoey, N.C.; Milton R. Young, N.D.; Robert A. Taft, O.; Elmer Thomas, Okla.; Wayne Morse, Ore.; Francis J. Myers, Pa.; Olin D. Johnston, S.C.; Chas. Gurney, S.D.; Elbert D. Thomas, Utah; George D. Aiken, Vt.; Warren G. Magnuson, Wash.; and Alexander Wiley, Wis.

On the seven major issues which the Senate voted on in the first session of Congress, only two senators were present and voted right on each issue while 15 senators were present and voted wrong on each of those issues according to a tabulation made by the NAACP.

The only two senators who voted right were Sen. Magnuson, (D., Wash.) and Senator Irving Ives (R., N.Y.).

The seven issues which the NAACP listed as the most important were the Barkley ruling to sustain cloture; (2) the defeat of the Wherry-Hayden pro-filibuster resolution; (3) the prohibition of segregation in public housing; (4) the establishment of a 75 cents minimum wage; (5) the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law; (6) the prohibition of segregation in the Federal Aid to Education bill and (7) the liberal admittance of displaced persons.

Bishop A. F. Shaw Speaks on Lenten Series at Kokomo

KOKOMO—Bishop Alexander F. Shaw of Baltimore, Md., delivered the sermon opening the Lenten series of meetings at the Main Street Methodist Church here last week.

Before the sermon the bishop gave a resume of his own life, pointing out that he was the son of ex-slave parents.

Mrs. Elizabeth Burnette of Wayman A.M.E. Church sang a solo, and Rev. Sheldon Duecker, a member of the local congregation and a student of Butler University led the congregational singing.

The Bishop's Team, a group of church members who have been organized to do evangelistic work, was commissioned.

KOKOMO CHURCHES OBSERVE NAACP DAY

KOKOMO—NAACP Day was observed last Sunday in local churches, with objectives and achievements of the organization given recognition.

The NAACP Youth Council was reorganized at a meeting Thursday at the Carver Center. Mrs. Elizabeth Orndorff, chairman of youth work, presided. Young people from various church and community organizations attended.

Edward Ray is president of the local NAACP branch. Executive board members include Raymond Artis, Hollis King, Theophilus Smith, Lee John Jackson, Roosevelt Solomon and Mrs. Charles Baker.

DISCUSS HAITI: Miss Etta Moten, Chicago, widely acclaimed singer is shown discussing the Haitian exposition with Herman L. Desir, vice consul from the Republic in the city of Chicago recently. Miss Moten will appear in a series of concerts at the exposition, and is scheduled to fly to Haiti this week-end.

Gary Kiwanians Hold Brotherhood Meet

GARY—"It's time for us to stop talking about brotherhood and start practicing it—now—today," Rev. L. V. Booth, pastor of First Baptist Church, told the local Kiwanis Club at a Brotherhood Week luncheon here last week.

"Up to now many of us have practiced a brotherhood of sorts," the pastor declared.

"Some of us have practiced a brotherhood of convenience—when it was economically advantageous, or to save our hides. Others have practiced a kind of 'brotherhood by force.' But we have yet to try brotherly love."

Rev. Booth was one of four churchmen of different faiths who addressed the luncheon. The others were a Jewish rabbi, a white Presbyterian minister and a Catholic priest.

Rabbi Recalls War Rabbi Adolph J. Feinberg, temporary pastor of the Temples Israel in Gary and Valparaiso, recalled how Americans of all colors, nationality backgrounds and religious faiths trained, fought and died together in the recent war.

Dr. Whitsett's talk was followed by a workshop during which the consultants were William B. Harper, executive secretary of the Anderson Urban League, and Prof. Charles W. Carter of Anderson College.

Other speakers at various sessions included Louis B. Greenberg, executive secretary of the Indiana Jewish Community Relations Council; Paul Cooper, industrial secretary of the Fort Wayne Urban League; Dr. Allen Bowman of Marion College; Kenneth O. Wilson, executive director of the Marion Urban League; Dr. Val Clear and L. Shirell Fox, both of Anderson College.

A skit entitled "What Makes an American" was presented by Marion College students including Maurice Gaylor, Betty Hook, Eugene Ramsey, Mrs. Paul McCoy, Al Flood and Robert Strawser.

Wm. McClendon, NAACP leader, dies at Hammond. HAMMOND — Funeral services for William McClendon, age 45, president of the Hammond branch NAACP and a member of the organization's state board, were held Saturday, March 4, at Mt. Zion Baptist Church. Rev. A. B. Burns officiated. The Hinton Funeral Home was in charge.

Mr. McClendon died of a heart attack Monday, Feb. 27, while attending a NAACP meeting at Brooksville, Fla. Over the previous week-end he had been a delegate to the Progressive Party national convention in Chicago.

A worker at the Inland Steel Co. plant, Mr. McClendon was active in the United Steelworkers of America, CIO, and in civic and church affairs.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Irene Agnes Hayes; three sons, William Overton, Napoleon and Wayman, all who made their home with their father; two sisters, Mrs. Roseanna Stephens and Mrs. Geneva Polindexter; a brother, Ben McClendon, all of Hammond, and a brother, Allie McClendon of Selma, Ark.

DIXIE RACIAL ISSUE NATIONAL PROBLEM, JUDGE WARING SAYS

NEW YORK (ANP)—The racial problem in the south is "not a Negro problem but a white problem, and national in scope," declared Judge J. Waties Waring of the U.S. District court, Charleston, S.C., here last week at one of a series of programs sponsored by the Harlem Inter-Racial platform in Convent Avenue Baptist church.

"The white people of my part of the country are sick mentally," he said, "obsessed with the false doctrine of white supremacy."

Citing efforts of the U.S. to speak for minorities on an international scale, he asked: "How can the U.S. face the world and demand justice for minorities of the world when we have racial segregation in our own backyard?"

Following his address, the jurist was given a scroll in honor of his work in opening the South Carolina primaries to Negroes in 1947.

FORMER KKK LEADER IN IND. EXPECTED TO LEAVE PRISON

D. C. Stephenson, faded symbol of the notorious Ku Klux Klan will shortly be released from the Indiana state prison, action of Governor Henry F. Schricker indicated last Saturday.

The chief executive commuted the life sentence of the former Indiana Klan leader to 25 years, making him eligible to immediate parole.

The few remaining formalities are expected to be consummated by April 1.

The 56-year-old Stephenson would have been eligible for parole years ago except that he kept up a barrage of legal efforts to gain his freedom, a condition which removed consideration of parole by the clemency board.

Stephenson was convicted at Noblesville, Ind., in 1925 of the second degree murder of Miss Madge Oberholzer, Indianapolis, Statehouse worker, who charged in a statement before her death she had been attacked by the Klan leader, then at the height of his vast power in Indiana politics.

The Klan, because of its white supremacy policy which it attempted to enforce by devious means of intimidation, terrorism and even universal disgust and apprehension among Negroes.

Hate organizations such as the Klax were outlawed by the Indiana legislature last year.

The late W. S. Henry, veteran Indianapolis attorney who participated in several legal actions in behalf of Stephenson said the once all-powerful leader of the hooded order always denied any purpose of wholesale mistreatment of Negroes and promised, in event of his freedom, "to spend the balance of his life proving to this and other minority groups he was and will be their friend."

GARY URBAN LEAGUE COMMITTEE HEADS NAMED

GARY — Chairmen of four committees were appointed by H. B. Snyder, president of the Gary Urban League, here last week.

They are Dr. Leroy W. Bingham, industrial relations and employment; Mrs. Stanley Koln, housing; Mrs. Don F. Datisman, public relations and education; and Mrs. Wilbur J. Hardaway, nominating.

Special attention was given to the reading and the adoption of a revised edition of the constitution.

An all important executive committee was formulated and approved which consisted of Miss Nannie H. Burroughs of Washington, D.C.; Mrs. M. O. Ross, Michigan; Mrs. Viola T. Hill, Florida; Mrs. V. L. Penick, Washington; Mrs. Ester Tyree, Ohio; Mrs. H. M. Gibbs, Alabama; Mrs. C. D. Shaw, Indiana; Mrs. M. M. Arter, Washington; Mrs. J. C. Woods, Tennessee; Mrs. M. E. Hubbard, California; and Mrs. Fama J. Haynes, Tex. This committee will be called to Washington to meet with President Burroughs for the purpose of perfecting plans for the national convention which will convene in Philadelphia in September.

Weak FEPC Bill Hit By Methodist Cleric

EVANSTON, Ill. (Special to The Recorder) — The McConnell substitute FEPC bill passed by the U. S. House of Representatives last week was denounced by Rev. Clarence T. R. Nelson of Indianapolis in an address in the chapel of Garrett Biblical Institute, Northwestern University, here March 3.

Rev. Nelson, who is executive secretary of the Lexington College Conference Board of Education of the Methodist Church and an alumnus of Garrett, hit the McConnell Bill as "weak, toothless and well-nigh meaningless." He predicted that President Truman will probably veto the measure if the Senate does not strengthen its provisions.

The Indianapolis minister advised his listeners to "write your Senators and urge them to support Senate Bill 1728, a strong FEPC Bill prepared by former Senator Howard McGrath and now in committee."

Scores Demos, GOP Both the Democratic and Republican parties were scored by the speaker for their failure to enact civil rights legislation, including anti-poll tax and anti-lynching laws as well as the FEPC measure.

"Our nation stands repudiated in the eyes of many people in the world today, because of the hypocrisy of preaching and proclaiming de-

Ind. Solons Under Fire On Civil Rights Stand

SOUTH BEND — A newspaper debate on the civil rights records of Senators Homer E. Capehart and William E. Jenner was touched off here last week when F. Douglass Coker, prominent figure in the South Bend branch NAACP, challenged the stand taken on various questions by the Indiana solons.

In reply, the office of Senator Capehart and Senator Jenner issued statements declaring Mr. Coker in error on several points: Senator Capehart is up for reelection next fall while Senator Jenner's term runs to 1952. Both are Republicans.

The immediate targets of Mr. Coker's blast were statements made by Edgar Brown, Washington, D. C., director of the National Negro Council.

Mr. Brown has been active in cities throughout Indiana for the past month, rousing support for a petition to put the Dixiecrat Senators out of Congress. He has urged an all-out fight for passage of FEPC and other civil rights legislation, and recently introduced Senator Capehart at a meeting of the Baptist Ministerial Alliance in Indianapolis.

Text of Letter

The text of Mr. Coker's letter to the South Bend Tribune follows:

"As the representative of the South Bend National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to the Indiana delegation of the civil rights mobilization conference held in Washington, D. C., last January I would like to give my reevaluation of certain statements expressed in the pages of The Tribune recently.

"These statements were made by Edgar Brown, of the National Negro Council, and inferred that the civil rights records of Indiana Senators Jenner and Capehart were good since they had expressed themselves in favor of FEPC, and had voted for the anti-segregation amendment to the public housing bill.

"These statements are a perfect example of the half-truth being worse than the lie. Jenner and Capehart may have said that they favor FEPC, but the record shows that they voted with the Dixiecrats and other 'conservative' Republicans to strengthen the filibuster, making it more difficult than ever for any civil rights legislation, including FEPC, to come to the floor of the Senate for a vote.

"Won't Allow a Vote"

"How can Jenner and Capehart be for a measure that they won't even let the representatives of the people vote upon? Moreover, during the visit of the Indiana delegation to the civil rights mobilization conference to their offices both Jenner and Capehart refused to give an unequivocal answer when asked if they would support the present FEPC measure.

"When Mr. Brown says that Senators Jenner and Capehart voted against segregation in public housing he is being very misleading. The anti-segregation amendment to the public housing bill was sponsored by Senator Bricker, of Ohio. Its avowed purpose was to inject the racial issue into the housing fight, knowing that if it passed Southern Democratic votes would join with conservative Republican votes to kill public housing.

"The final proof of this lies in the fact that Senators Bricker, Jenner and Capehart all voted against public housing on final passage. Their votes against segregation were not from their love to civil rights but from their bias against public housing. But the great majority of the Negro people will not be deceived so easily, even by the clever double talk of some of their own alleged spokesmen."

Capehart's Office Replies

In reply, Senator Capehart's office issued a statement which read in part:

"Mr. Coker is in error when he states that Mr. Capehart and Mr. Jenner voted against the housing bill on final passage. Both Indiana senators are recorded as voting 'Yes' on final passage.

"As to the matter of the vote on cloture... Considerable political agitation has been developed among the proponents of civil rights over the cloture vote and it is unfortunate because the long-existent rules on cloture have and always will be a protection for minorities rather than a hindrance.

"(Senator Capehart) advised the FEPC delegation which visited here that he would support FEPC, but it was pointed out that many amendments probably would be offered before a final bill was available for passage. The Senator advised the delegation that he reserved the right to vote amendments up or down on the basis of what would be in the best interests of the people and the nation."

Jenner 'Corrects' Coker

Senator Jenner declared: "None of the statements made in Mr. Coker's letter has any basis of fact. He is entirely mistaken relative to the cloture resolution adopted by the Senate in the first session of the present Congress. By its application the Senate can halt a filibuster and force action on just the kind of legislation which Mr. Coker desires to see enacted."

"Prior to this action there was no possible means by which a motion to consider legislation such as Mr. Coker has in mind could be brought to the floor of the Senate because the cloture did not apply to a motion to take up a bill. Now, for the first time in the history of the United States, Senate cloture can be applied both to the motion to consider a bill and to the bill itself and to halt a filibuster."

"When the housing bill was finally acted upon in the Senate April 21, 1949, the record shows I voted 'aye'."

NNPA HEAD DECLARES U. S. AID TO EDUCATION NECESSARY

WASHINGTON (ANP)—Dowdell H. Davis, president of the Negro Newspaper Publishers association, calls federal aid to education "the only adequate bolster" to the current public school crisis, in a statement appearing in the March issue of the NEA Journal.

"The need for federal aid to education in a comprehensive and adequate sense is proved beyond question by the extremely critical state of school financing in many local areas. Assistance on the national level, equitable and impartially administered is the only adequate bolster to meet the immediate crisis."

Six other leaders of Negro organizations are among the forty-two persons who have statements in support of federal aid to education carried in the current issue of the NEA Journal, official organ of the National Education association of the United States with headquarters in Washington.

These persons are Mrs. Alice P. Allen, Iota Phi Lambda sorority; Mrs. Delilah W. Pierce and Mrs. Olivia S. Henry, National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa; Dr. George W. Gore, American Teachers association; Atty. B. V. Lawson, Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity; Dr. Raymond E. Jackson, Shriner imperial potentate; and B. G. Olive Jr., National Negro Insurance association.

Statements endorsing federal aid to education are also carried from top leadership of the American Legion, A. F. of L. and C.I.O., National Grange and American Farm Bureau federation, League of Women Voters, General Federation of Women's clubs, Baptists of the United States, Central Conference of American Rabbis and a number of other national organizations.

PELL CITY, Ala. (ANP)—The KKK will make a "probe" of the jailing of Rev. Alvin Horn of Talladega, who is being tried for the mob murder of a storekeeper.

Sam Roper, imperial wizard of the Georgia Association of the Ku Klux Klan, "reassured" the Talladega preacher during a visit here last week. Following a chat in Horn's jail cell, Roper said he would be in the community for several weeks. Horn and Claude Luker are being held for the murder of Charlie Hurst.

ernment Out of Real Estate Business" and "A Home Owner I Am Against Public Housing."

Mayor Schock, in pleading for acceptance of the funds, declared: "The government has offered us $11,000,000 to build 1,023 much-needed housing units. What confronts us here is: Shall we toss about $6,000,000 in building-trade wages over our shoulders? Shall we toss about $5,000,000 in the cost of building materials to be bought here over our shoulders?"

"Shall we say that our low-income groups must continue to stumble along without the help we here can give them? Did you read the news that it is now proposed in Congress that all rent controls shall be abolished? Can you have any doubt that that will be done? The result can be forecast without doubt, and that result will heighten, not lessen, the need for low-rent housing."

"Can't we have brains enough here to accept it when offered? We will pay for it in our income taxes whether we can get the benefits of it or not."

"We did that in bygone days when federal money was offered and today we are paying three times what would have been necessary for sewage disposal. We could have had other things too. But we said we did not want federal money, and so we got nothing for the federal income taxes we had to pay anyway."

"How long must we go along that course? Now is our chance to enter an area wherein reason shall prevail. Now is our chance to do the thing which in our own hearts we know we need to do. Now is our chance to let need prevail over greed."

The mayor's eloquent plea, however, did not prevail over his political opponents. A Republican-sponsored motion to provide for a "referendum" on the question was also defeated.

SOUTH BEND WOMAN SPEAKS AT EAST CHICAGO

EAST CHICAGO — Mrs. Sophia Wills of South Bend, who attended the recent Civil Rights Mobilization in Washington, D. C., reported on the mobilization at a meeting of the Daughters of Isis, Mohamet Court 93, here last Saturday.

The meeting was held in Masonic hall. Mrs. Leola Comer is commander.

Proceeds were turned over to the Sauk Trails Boy Scout camp for construction of an amphitheater.

DON'T LET CONGRESS OFF THE HOOK!

Leaders of the U. S. House of Representatives were quoted last week as declaring that since the House passed the "phony FEPC bill," no further effort will be made in that body for the adoption of civil rights legislation.

This cynical stand comes as no surprise to us. This newspaper has said all along that dominant groups of both major parties were merely using the civil rights question as a political football.

However, we don't believe they should be allowed to get away with it. We are for holding the Congressmen's noses to the ugly facts of discrimination until they fulfill their campaign promises — if it takes "all summer" and all next winter, too.

The House of Representatives, for example, has not yet passed an anti-lynching bill. The whole nation knows that passage of such legislation is necessary to save the very lives of innocent men and women in the South. A measure to accomplish this purpose is on the Senate calendar.

What twisted reasoning it is, that holds the House is "excused" from passing this bill because of the meaningless gesture it made on the FEPC question! Even if the FEPC bill were a genuine one, there would be absolutely no occasion to "trade" fair employment for the lives of Dixie lynch victims.

As far as the FEPC goes, we maintain the Senate must ignore the House-passed measure and adopt the bill on its own calendar, which is modeled after the New York law and contains enforcement provisions or "teeth."

A conference would then follow between House and Senate committees. In this conference, the House could be compelled by public pressure to accept the stronger provisions of the Senate bill.

A key question in the Senate is likely to be a motion for cloture to halt a Dixiecrat filibuster. Both Senators Homer E. Capehart and William E. Jenner have promised to vote for cloture, and should be reminded to do so.

It is also high time for the Senate to act on the anti-poll tax bill, which was passed by the House last year and is on the Senate calendar.

Let Senators Capehart and Jenner and your Representative know that you insist on positive action on FEPC, anti-lynching and anti-poll tax bills NOW!

BILL GARRETT NEEDS COMPANY

Our esteemed contemporary, Forrest Flewellen of the Ohio State News, recently interviewed Bill Garrett of Indiana University and reported that Shelby Bill is disappointed at being the only Negro basketball player in the Big Nine.

Flewellen said his purpose was to crusade for some company for Garrett on other Big Nine squads. We heartily second the motion.

For example, how do Hoosier taxpayers like the idea that never in all history has there been a Negro player on the Purdue University basketball team? And for that matter, with the exception of a boy or two deep in the reserves last season, there has never been a Negro player on the Purdue football team either.

Somewhat we just can't believe there is anything in the West Lafayette air that would destroy the athletic effectiveness of such players as Garrett, Johnny Wilson, Bobby Robertson, George Tallafarro and other lads who keep coming up year after year.

Not only Indiana, but DePauw, Earlham and Anderson College fielded mixed basketball teams during the past season. We'd like to see Purdue and the other Big Nine schools (Big Ten next year) do the same.

A SALUTE TO PORTLAND, OREGON

Following the enactment of a state FEPC law by the Oregon state legislature in 1949, the city of Portland late last month enacted a "civil rights" ordinance of startling scope or proportions.

The ordinance will become effective in 30 days, or about the last week of this month, March. The ordinance bans discrimination on account of race, color, religion or nationality in "all places of business offering or holding out services to the general public."

These include hotels, lodging houses, rooming houses, eating places, and other places where food and drinks are served; but it is not limited to such places of service to the general public. Theaters or other places of amusement, public transportation (carriers), public facilities in office buildings, retail stores, hospitals, funeral facilities and cemeteries, etc. are included.

The ordinance was supported by a special committee appointed by Mayor Dorothy McCollough Lee, the League of Women Voters, Urban League, Republican Central Committee, American Association of University Women, Federation of Women's Clubs, Y. W. C. A., Council of Churches, American Veterans Committee, CIO Industrial Union Council, Fellowship of Churches and other civic, labor and church organizations. It met outspoken opposition in several public hearings.

A few years ago the city of Portland was outstanding for its customs or practices of discrimination but it is now the second city of the nation to ban discrimination against minority groups or peoples in public places. Violators of the ordinance may be fined up to $500 or punished with a jail sentence up to 180 days, or both.

Supporters of the ordinance have acclaimed Mayor Dorothy McCollough Lee and the Rev. Myron C. Cole, chairman of the Mayor's Committee on Intergroup Relations. While the action of the city council in passing the ordinance came on the same date that the city was cited as "Brotherhood City for 1950", by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

We salute the city of Portland, which comes forward as a peacemaker in the still "virile West", which millions of people over our land will look to the horizon for like signs of democratic action — in the spirit of Christian culture. And in this token of democratic action, despite press or reactionary influences, it appears the lethargy of arbitrary and damaging customs shall be cast aside against things to come in tomorrow's small world.

"ALL THE STRONG WARINGS"

U. S. Judge J. Waties Waring of Charleston, S. C. and his Michigan-born wife have continued to make news in the southland since the day in 1947, when he ruled the "Democratic party in the South was not a private club," opening the way for Negro people to vote in primary elections in South Carolina.

Otherwise Judge Waring has demonstrated the temperament, enlightenment and courage which one must associate

WHITE AMERICANS
NEGROES REVERE (II)
WILLIAM LLOYD GARRISON

"I go for the people — the whole people — whatever be their bodily dimensions, temporal conditions, or shades of color". These words of Garrison suggest his inborn will to do good. He was a real humanitarian and an American abolitionist and internationalist.

He was born at Newburyport, Massachusetts, in 1805 and died at a daughter's home in New York in 1879 in his seventy-fourth year. He was of humble origin, his father being a sailor. His mother was exceptionally beautiful and of untarnished character. His father abandoned the mother and three children, leaving them in poverty. The reason for the desertion is not known, but is believed to have been because of his excessive use of intoxicating liquors. Garrison's mother died in Baltimore in 1823 after a pitiable struggle to care for herself and children.

Garrison was modest. He did not seem to regard himself as being the leader of the abolitionists. He was of a cheerful disposition, deeply religious, and fond of sacred music, which he delighted in singing whenever he could get anyone to sing with him.

He had the highest respect and even reverence for women. His private and domestic life was beyond reproach. In 1834 he was married to Miss Helen Elizabeth Benson, with whom he lived happily for forty-two years. They had seven children.

Garrison's enemies and opponents hated him bitterly. They treated him with contempt. He received apathetic response from influential persons to whom he appealed in the interest of the slaves and free colored persons.

They accused him of trying to stir up slave insurrections. Opposition to his efforts to free the slaves was both active and dangerous. In Boston he was looked upon as being a vulgar, fanatical intruder, harmful to southern trade. He had difficulty getting a hall or church in which to lecture against slavery.

Imprisoned in Maryland

He was imprisoned for forty-nine days in Baltimore in 1830 for writing against slaveholders. He was dragged through Boston streets with a rope around him in 1835, jailed, and bodily thrown out of a meeting held to protest against slavery. He received threatening letters constantly.

Southern grand juries indicted him and demanded his extradition. Efforts were made to kidnap him in response to a reward offered by Mississippi slave owners. In December, 1831, the Georgia Legislature proposed to pay $5,000.00 for his capture and conviction. So greatly was he threatened that free Boston Negroes organized to protect him. Their bodyguard armed with short, thick sticks nightly followed him home.

Nevertheless, in spite of ever-present exposure to injury or death he declared in the first issue of the LIBERATOR, which he established at Boston on January 1, 1831: "I am in earnest. I will not equivocate. I will not excuse. I will not retreat a single inch. AND I WILL BE HEARD."

Fearing by Slaveholders
This famous announcement showed that he was determined at all cost to strive on for emancipation. He caused all who favored slavery to shudder. He shocked Boston and the nation by apprenticing a black boy to learn the printer's art. He wrote his DECLARATION OF SENTIMENTS in the small attic of a colored man in Philadelphia in 1833.

generally with a member of the federal judiciary. Further, he has been strengthened by the full support of an enlightened and courageous wife. Mrs. Waring has joined her husband in interpreting the U. S. Constitution as promising full citizenship rights to all men. They have lost face or caste in Dixie.

More irregular (by Dixie yardsticks) Mrs. Waring speaking recently in Charleston, S. C. said, "You Negro people have already picked up the torch of culture and achievement from the whites down here. They are a sick, confused and decadent people."

Supporters of "gradualism" will say Mrs. Waring went a little too far in such an observation. But wise and honest prophets of democratic action or progress long ago observed that moral or spiritual vigors of the South were decadent and confused or ailing to no end.

However, since Mrs. Waring made that speech in January of this year no white persons have visited their home in the city of Charleston, S. C. And they have received again and again abusive and insulting letters and telephone calls from people in the community of their home.

The justice and truth of the U. S. Constitution in some days to come may prevail in our land. Yet over all the wide front of mortals dedicated to "going backward", the long tirade of assaults upon the "truths of the U. S. Constitution" are in another sense assaults upon the health or moral and spiritual vigors of the South or the nation as a whole. But in the spirit of fellowship of all men, we observe that better days must come, shall come in the southland, because "all the strong warings" will bear the infirmities of the "sick, confused and decadent people of Dixieland."

When he issued the last number of the LIBERATOR on December 29, 1865, he was almost penniless and his wife was a helpless paralytic. Fortunately, however, on March 10, 1866, he was presented a national testimonial of $31,000.00.

It was sufficient to maintain him in comfort for the rest of his life. It surely must be gratifying to all who are charitably inclined to know that this great and good man thus was enabled to live his last eleven years in peace and quiet, honored by the civilized world.

THE NEGRO WOMAN

The Negro woman, the best in the land.

God's greatest gift to the Negro man.

Down through the ages she hasn't had the best. But with this handicap, she stands on the crest.

She has been tempted with money and forced to do wrong.

But God is above the Devil so her race moved along. She brought forth men, that proved themselves to be, And they fought and died that we might be free.

If beauty is what you want, you know, Beauty is, as beauty does, is so. She will know what to do with her hair. Buy her some clothes and the beauty will be there.

Treat her with love, kindness and care, And when you arrive home, she will always be there. Finally, after all is said and done, in this weary life Oh give me, oh give me, a Negro woman for a wife. —C. E. Spears

OUR TWO-HANDED JOB

If I were of Nordic extraction, I would most certainly soft-pedal the fact that Nordics are allegedly "superior". This Nordic-ruled world is in the middle of a mighty mess. As Schopenhauer once said that this is the worst of all possible worlds, he must have envisioned the Twentieth Century world ruled by the Nordics. If worlds could possibly get into a bigger mess than the one we are now in, it would be difficult to imagine the fact. Our vaunted democracy is in a death fight with Communism, a Godless totalitarianism.

Our color struck world is being debilitated with color consciousness and the commitments thereof. The face of Christianity is scarred with race prejudice. The class war that old Karl Marx prophesied is upon us with the fury of an avenging angel. Fine-spun theologies are impotent to stem the tide of doubt that keeps rising.

Education and educators are in confusion and economics is still a dismal science. And above all we are dancing on the precipice of destruction. If the nations do not destroy one another within the next 50 years it will most certainly not be their fault. If mankind ever made a more vigorous bid for self-destruction history does not record it. Mankind with the mind of an Aristotle is manifesting the heart of a Nero. This is a combination of damnation.

Center of U. S. A. Confusion

The critical nature of our times can best be envisioned by a careful look at our own dear USA and particularly the South. Things are going from bad to worse in the South and there is no need to cry "peace! peace!" There is no peace with floggings and killings and terrorizations becoming routine in the South. The South alone cannot be blamed for what is transpiring here. Were the South not abetted by the rest of the nation these terrible conditions could not obtain.

What is taking place in the South, ku klux and all, has the silent sanction of this nation and there is no other conclusion to arrive at. When this nation got ready for prohibition when this nation got tired of prohibition it was banished. When the nation got ready for woman's suffrage there was woman's suffrage. When the nation got ready to fight the Germans we fought them and it is safe to conclude that when this nation got ready for an end of subjugation for Negroes such subjugation will end.

What is happening in the South of today is not merely a sectional or southern problem. It is a national problem. When the destructive forces now at work in the South come to their logical fruition, the nation will be injured and not alone the South. We are living in Wilkie's One World and as Dr. French, one of my illustrious teachers of philosophy was wont to say, "We live not in a multiverse but in a universe."

The point of this discussion is this: Communism is masking a desperate bid for the Twentieth Century world which world we once had in fee simple politically. At the conclusion of World War I, the nations were frantic over the ideal of democracy and the late President Wilson was heralded the world over for helping to make the world "safe for democracy". Democracy was a magic word the world over. But today finds us struggling for very life. Nobody is more depressed over this ugly fact than this writer. But we must face facts be they ever so ugly. It is generally agreed that we have thus far lost the cold war, and with it China, one of the most populous nations of the world.

In a nip and tuck political race in Great Britain between the Laborites and the Conservatives, we have the former eking out a slim victory in spite of the fact we had threatened to shut up our purse in case of Labor victory. In other words even with the dollar threat in the air the Laborites won the election and what would they have done with a pledge of our boundless funds. The results of the current election in England was not indicative of democracy's strength but of its weakness. If Communism as a tide must be stayed we have a two-handed job on our hands! This nation and world cannot hold back Communism with one hand and hold down the Negro with the other. Fighting Communism is a two-handed job!

NAACP IS TESTING THE LINE

For forty-one years the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has been in the vanguard fighting the battles for Negroes, who claim that they want first-class American citizenship and for most of those forty-one years the NAACP has fought on a shoestring, collecting only a measly dollar a year for its basic membership. Even so, the large majority of Negroes who clamor for better treatment and who expect the Association to fight their battles have never contributed to support of their greatest champion.

In view of the abnormal poverty of a large portion of the race and of the lack of knowledge of their rights and the methods of securing them among Negroes, the NAACP maintained its low membership rates in the face of rising costs and extended services for forty years, hoping to build a mass organization whose numbers would be more effective than a lush bank balance.

Confronted With Crisis

Last year after forty years of patient waiting the Association was forced to raise its basic fee to two dollars to avert a dangerous curtailment of its activities or possible bankruptcy in a period when its services were needed more than ever.

This year nationally and locally, the NAACP is testing the sincerity of Negroes who claim that they want to be free and want to make America worthy of leadership in a chaotic world. It is trying to sell the idea of memberships on the ability-to-pay basis.

The leaders nationally and locally feel that if one affords to own a home or a car, he can afford to pay more than the pitifully small two-dollar membership fee or the three-dollar-and-fifty-cent Crisis membership rate.

Nationally, the organization is soliciting Life Memberships at five hundred dollars each and locally the branch is asking ing for contributions of from five to one hundred dollars from those who are able and feel strongly enough the desire to beat at the walls of the ghetto.

Executive secretary, Walter White and field secretary, Bernard Brown, have stated that with the civil rights program now hot and with the increase of activity on the part of hate groups, it is imperative that the NAACP increase its activity in order not only that the fight might be won, but even more because inactivity of positive forces at this time can throw our cause back a generation.

Then they point in contrast to the ease with which the Klan and similar divisive groups raise funds to counteract the work of the Association.

Willard Ransom, president of the Indiana State Association of Branches of the NAACP; William Ray, president of the local branch, and Mrs. Jessie Jacobs, local executive secretary, point with pride to the effective work of the Association before the last session of the General Assembly, when it was able with the aid of other local and state organizations to abolish the legal basis for segregated schools. Already in preparation is the legislative program for the 1951 session of the General Assembly and the Indianapolis City Council.

Funds Greatly Needed

This coupled with the fact that the branch contemplates a drive to educate the public on the issues involved in the May primaries and the November election means that the branch is greatly in need of funds.

And for the first time in the history of its membership campaigns, the local NAACP is setting up a Special Gifts Committee. This committee, which is headed by Bill Powell, automobile salesman and radio commentator, is out to garner larger memberships from local citizens. Associated with Mr. Powell are William Ray, local president, and your columnist.

If you are not solicited or are fearful that you may be missed in this effort to have local Negroes to "stand up and be counted" you may call the local office at Spring Clark, promising young pharmacist, did or you may call your columnist at HU. 4352. The office phone is LI. 7124.

Hurry! It's later than you think!

THE FELLOWSHIP OF MEN

To The Editor
The Recorder
Dear Sir:

The Bible and the verdict of science agree that all men of all races come from one common source. Since God is the Father of all we are sons of His and brothers one with another. This clearly implies the equality of all races.

When this fact is fully recognized and complied with, the imposition by white groups of restrictions designed to remind the Negro continually of his inferiority will come to an end, and the only distinction among men will be based upon individual rather than racial differences, and these will not be used to maintain a caste system or to restrict the status indefinitely of any individual. Democracies are built on the idea of human dignity, and are truly democratic only to the extent we recognize all men are created as equal. The elimination of all distinctions and discriminations based on color or class, should be the ultimate goal of every democracy.

Whenever we begin to talk about the brotherhood of man, there are some who think I want to be their brother-in-law. The brotherhood of man does not imply interracial marriage or private social equality by mandate, but it does permit such by individual choice, which is less demoralizing than the illicit practices indulged in by many of our citizens of our country who are so bitterly opposed to interracial marriage.

The world today is bleeding from a great destructive war, with its gnawing servitude of debt. If this war in any way can be considered worth its cost, this post-war world must be free from tyranny, enslavement, jingoism, racial discrimination, taxation without representation and the right and opportunity for all must be accepted. Since our government exacted an all-out effort by every one to defeat the Axis, there should be an all-out freedom for every one since the victory has been won.

This freedom should consist of full economic, political and social equality for American citizens, in thought expression and actions with no discrimination based on race or color.

The President of the U. S. A. can only give lip-service to democracy as long as our government continues its present policy of discrimination. —Rev. J. A. G. Jordan, pastor of Good Samaritan Baptist Church.

MEASLES

While measles is prevalent every month, March, April and May are regarded as the "measles months." The disease reaches its peak during this period, with April the month having the highest incidence in Indiana.

Measles remains an important disease, mainly because it is communicable for several days before the rash appears. It starts with symptoms similar to an ordinary cold. Red and watery eyes and a cough appear eight or ten days after exposure to measles. The rash appears in about 12 or 14 days after exposure, first on the forehead and neck, and later over the entire body. The rash lasts three or four days, gradually fading. The disease is communicable for about five days after the rash disappears.

Pneumonia is the complication most feared during an attack of measles. There are other complications, chiefly infection of the middle ear. Several cases of infection of the brain occur during a large epidemic of measles.

Most of the deaths due to measles and its complications could be prevented by prompt use of new serums. The serum is administered to those exposed, or at first symptoms of the disease.

Measles is primarily a disease of pre-school children, although all those who never have had the disease should guard against it.

SARAH VAUGHAN SIGNED FOR PICS

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Sarah Vaughan, who is enjoying the greatest success of her entire career in her current stay on the west coast, has been signed to make two musical shorts for Universal International Pictures, the first of which is already before the cameras.

The incomparable singing star, whose popularity seems to have no bounds, shattered every existing attendance record during the first two weeks of her engagement at the Oasis niter and holds over for a third week at an increase in salary from $3,250 to $3,750. Sarah will make her first appearance in the Pacific Northwest in opening a week's engagement on stage of the Palomar theatre in Seattle on Monday, March 13 following her Seattle debut, she returns to California on March 2 to headline for a week on stage at the Million Dollar theatre in Los Angeles.

JOSEPH COTTEN and Bette Davis in a romantic scene from the new Warner Bros. drama, "Beyond the Forest," which comes to the PARK theatre on Tuesday.

DEEP RIVER BOYS OPEN IN CANADA

MONTREAL — The popular Deep River Boys, who have just completed a record-breaking engagement at Cafe Society Downtown in New York, will make their first appearance of 1950 in the Dominion of Canada in opening a four-week engagement at the

Tic Toc Club, this city's leading niter, on Friday, March 10.

The "Deeps" have long been rated one of the top niter attractions in Canada and will be paid $3,500 weekly for their four weeks at the Tic Toc. It was just about a year ago that the "Deeps" set an all-time attendance record at the Tic Toc and their mark still stands, although they hope to top it on this trip.

PALS, AS OF NOW. Victor Mature's warm welcome by pretty Jeff Donnell doesn't disturb her adoring screen husband, Sonny Tufts, in RKO Radio's thrill-packed "Easy Living," at the Avenue Sunday.

Lucille Ball, Lizabeth Scott, Lloyd Nolan Co-Stars In Film

Victor Mature, Lucille Ball, Lizabeth Scott, Sonny Tufts and Lloyd Nolan have the stellar roles in "Easy Living" RKO Radio's dramatic romance with professional football as a background. Mature and Tufts portray star half-backs on the championship New York Chiefs, and Miss Scott is cast as Mature's extravagant and ambitious wife, with Nolan as the team's coach and Miss Ball as his secretary, the latter role being sympathetic in contrast with that of Miss Scott during a crucial period in the story. Jacques Tourneur directed the production by Robert Sparks, which offers Paul Stewart, Jack Paar and the Los Angeles Rams in featured support. The picture starts Sunday at the AVENUE theatre.

LONG TALES IN SHUNKEN SHORTS

Lena Horne, vacationing quietly in northern California, positively will not make a picture with Billy Eckstine — so says her manager. After her two-week vacation she will make a personal appearance in New York, then go to Europe where she is booked solid for the summer.

ILLINOIS JACQUET IN BALTIMORE, MD.

BALTIMORE, Md. — Illinois Jacquet, the renowned "Dynamo of the Saxophone", will debut his new free swinging 17-piece band on stage of the Royal theater in this city in a week's engagement that gets under way Friday, March 10. Following his local stand, the mighty mite of the saxophone will take his newly augmented crew to the 125th Street Apollo theater in New York for a week starting March 17.

The frantic tenorman, whose prowess as the world's greatest and most exciting saxophonist has yet to be challenged will still retain his high-flying Sextette as a feature of his new big band. The Jacquet crew will include such ace instrumentalists as Joe Newman and Russell Jacquet on trumpets, Henry Coker on trombone, Maurice Simon on baritone sax, Ray Perry on alto sax, Shadow Wilson at the drums, Al Lucas on string bass, and Cedric Heywood at the piano.

"The Reckless Moment" Tops Bill at Walker Sunday

Columbia's "The Reckless Moment," starring James Mason and Joan Bennett, will be the next featured attraction at the WALKER theatre, arriving Sunday. Geraldine Brooks has the top featured supporting role.

Based upon a "Ladies Home Journal" story by Elisabeth Sanxay Holding, "The Reckless Moment" concerns a married woman and her family who are trapped in a web of violence by one fateful, reckless moment.

PLUS—Recently John Payne, who can currently be seen in a star role in Benedict Bogeaus' "The Crooked Way," a United Artists release which opens on Sunday at the WALKER theatre, joined the long list of Hollywood stars who have formed their own independent production companies.

Payne announced that he will produce at least two features in 1949. He is interested in several properties, but the deals are still in the discussion stage. Payne was formerly under long term contract to 20th Century-Fox, but obtained the free lance ranks this past year with four features and one play to his credit.

"Beyond the Forest" At Park Tuesday

Bette Davis has long held to her belief that a successful actress must be one who causes things to happen — not one to whom things just do happen.

She is living up to that theory with a vengeance in "Beyond the Forest," her new Warner Bros. picture in which Joseph Cotten plays opposite her and David Brian plays the man she loves. The film opens at the PARK theatre on Tuesday.

Bette, in this role, makes things happen all right. She kills one man who is in her way to a romance with David Brian and she works so hard to thwart Cotten in his determination to uphold their marriage.

Another one of Bette's several foibles about her roles, is that she must change hair dress and sometimes hair coloring to suit the part she plays. In "Beyond the Forest," Bette has gone black-haired.

Caldwell Says, "All's Well" Since Switch!

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Alfred J. Caldwell believes in moderation. "That's why I go for Calvert Reserve," he says. "I switched when I discovered Calvert's mildness, and believe me, I'm going to stay switched. It's tops!"

Erskine Hawkins' Orchestra at Sunset Sunday Nite

ERSKINE HAWKINS and his "Tuxedo Junction" band will appear at the Sunset Sunday nite, March 12. Tickets are now on sale in your neighborhood.

"20th Century Gabriel" Returns To Scene of Earlier Triumphs

It's a night of music, fun and entertainment for anybody who comes to the Sunset on Sunday, March 12, when Erskine Hawkins swings into town with his famous ork, featuring star vocalists and solo instrumentalists.

The name Erskine Hawkins has become the trade-mark of great music and your guarantee of a night of swell entertainment.

As an added treat, when the Hawk comes to the Sunset on Sunday nite, he will introduce to his large and loyal following his brand new vocal discovery that lush thrush, Carline Ray. Come and see this hunk of pulchritude (meaning tops in looks), enjoy her singing and entertaining. She has loads of beauty, personality and talent. When Carline sits at the piano, you hear the greatest. When she plays a guitar, it's out of this world — but that's not all. . . . when she sings, that's it, brother!

You'll renew acquaintance with ol' reliable Jimmy Mitchell, sax star Julian Dash and a host of other tried and true favorites, headed by the mighty Hawk himself.

Advance tickets are now on sale in your neighborhood. For table reservations — call the Sunset Cafe.

Rating THE Records

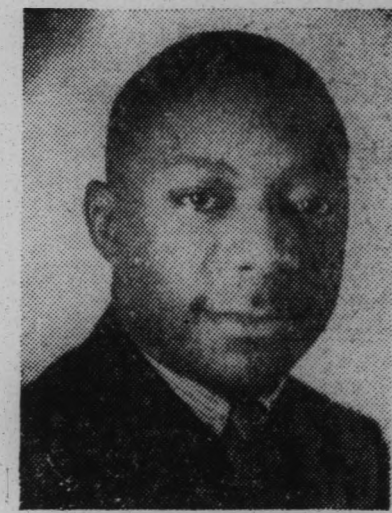

By J. HENRY RANDALL

JAMMING WITH JATP ON LP

Much can be said for, and perhaps some things can be said against the 33 1/3 rpm disc, commonly known as the Long Playing record. However, one of the best examples of its worth is seen in the Stinson company's 10-inch LP (No. 23) release of the Norman Granz jazz classic "Jazz at the Philharmonic," Vol. 1, pairing HOW HIGH THE MOON and LADY BE GOOD. These two standard items, given all sorts of treatment since they first hit and caught the public's fancy, were originally issued by Stinson on 78 rpm in a three-record album, splitting each tune into three parts.

In my opinion, the extended work numbers among the best things which Granz has introduced to the jazz-minded public. As a matter of fact, I would go overboard and say it "is" the best —

Know Your Entertainers

Merrill Laswell, for the past several years nationally renowned and well-known as a good musician, is back in town.

Recently closed at Stines' Ballroom, up on North Meridian street, the hometown trumpeter is playing nightly at the Showboat, a night spot northeast of the city.

Early last year he made a national tour with his 10-piece group and drew the acclaim of popular music critics all over.

Later in the year he returned here and played for several outstanding formal dances. He played for regular dances at the Walker Casino and Sunset Terrace.

THE THREE FLAMES IN CANADA 6 WKS.

TORONTO, Canada—The Three Flames, who originally came here for a week's engagement at the Holiday Inn, one of this city's leading niteries, have had that booking extended to six weeks for the longest run any attraction has ever had at that niterie.

The Flames will return home to the United States in time to herald the release of their first recording on the MGM label, which is slated to hit the record stalls on April 3.

An Open Letter ...To the Saint

THE FOLLOWING LETTER takes the writer to task for his stand on the club situation here in Naptown, and also accuses us of being satisfied with present conditions at our top spots. She also infers that we are withholding the truth from the general public. This of course is one person's opinion. Consequently we are reproducing the lady's letter in toto. We are quite sure that the lady gives us a right to our opinion since we are writing under a byline. Our personal fitness for the job we are doing is also a matter of opinion. We know the lady agrees with us on this point. So, dear readers we give you her opinion without malice aforethought.

213 W. North Street
Indianapolis, Indiana
February 25, 1950

Dear Saint:

It seems that I will have to alter my opinion of you somewhat, after reading such hard criticisms you made in your column of Feb. 25th. I feel that you have made a very insulting remark to Mr. and Mrs. Public, and that you owe them an apology.

You state that you don't know of any plausible reason for their actions, unless they are playing a game of "follow-the-leader", or "putting-on-the-dog" for Mr. Charlie's benefit. I think that was a very unfair and unwise statement for you to make. It appears that you don't think that uncleanliness, and exorbitant prices alone, are plausible reasons for their actions.

Either you are avoiding the truth, for some reasons unknown to this writer, or else you are not showing enough intelligence befitting the position you hold. Being a reporter, I am sure that you are not unaware of the existing conditions mentioned.

I have always had the impression that being a reporter meant printing the unvarnished truth, regardless of whom it hurts. We are all capable of making mistakes. To err is human, but to hide it, rather than try to rectify it, is a great deception.

I feel that you have placed yourself into a very ticklish situation, that you will not be able to talk your way out of too easily in the eyes of the public, by making such off-handed, hap-hazard statements as that.

You also think that Negroes should spend their money whenever possible with Negroes, and that my friend, is exactly what they are doing. Regardless of the amount of money spent in some of their establishments, it is quite obvious that something else is lacking to keep the majority of patronage away.

One great mistake that some people make, is to rush (head on) to open a business with only one thought in mind, and that is to make fast money.

They do at times, because there is always a certain percentage of people who are seeking pleasure, regardless to the circumstance or atmosphere surrounding them. But on the other hand, you will find that the other third of people will hold out for something better, even if it means crossing the line to find it.

The thing that disgusts me most, is the fact that some of us cry so loud and wrong about being segregated, and then just as soon as the doors of some white establishments are open to us, we start talking and criticizing the few who take advantage of it.

Have some of us ever really stopped to think just how much harm we do to ourselves as a race? Such things as these make me feel that the time and efforts the NAACP and the progress that they have made in breaking down racial and social barriers for our benefit, have been, and are being in vain.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs. Lula Sanford

Stan Kenton and Ork in Concert at Murat Sunday Nite

The popular Stan Kenton orchestra will appear in concert at the Murat Theater Sunday nite at 8 P. M., March 12. This will mark the first appearance here of the celebrated dance band in several months. Mr. Kenton is known throughout the country for his fairness as it relates to racial groups. During an appearance here at the Riverdale Park 3 years ago, Mr. Kenton went out of his way to see that Negro admirers of his band were admitted to the dance. Since this time Mr. Kenton has always maintained the same policy wherever he played.

Mr. Kenton will present "Innovations in modern music for 1950" to a capacity crowd, according to advance sales. Featured in the band are June Christy, celebrated chanteuse. Tickets are now on sale at the Murat box office.

Gossip of Movie Lots

By HARRY LEVETTE
HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (ANP) — By rushing the shooting of the film, the Jewell company ended production of the Jackie Robinson movie biography last week so Jackie could rush down to Vero Beach, Fla., in time for the opening of spring training March 1. It will be released under the Eagle Lion banner.

Baseball games were filmed in the Hollywood baseball park, home of the Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast league, a farm connection of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Jackie's early life was filmed at Pasadena where he grew up, then at Anaheim and Burbank. Ruby Dee, who gained prominence for her work in "No Way Out," plays the role of the baseball star's wife, Louise Beavers is cast in the sympathetic role of his mother. Among others featured in the picture were: Joel Fluellen, Marjorie Elliot, Bill Walker, Bernard Hamilton, Roy Glenn, Mildred Boyd, Doris Ake, Lens Benjamin, and Elmer Fain.

The pic appears to follow his life very closely. Among others featured were Kenny Washington, Jay Loft Lynn, Jimmie Payne, Jack Williams, and Minor Watson as Branch Rickey.

Jimmie Witherspoon, Roy Milton at Sunset March 26

JIMMY WITHERSPOON, nation's No. 1 blues singer and Roy Milton's orchestra have been booked to play a dance at the Sunset Sunday nite, March 26. Witherspoon's latest release, "In the Evening," is beginning to outsell his new famous "Ain't Nobody's Business," which is outselling any blues in the nation today. Witherspoon, a big, handsome hunk of man, is rated second only to none when it comes to shouting in blues.

Roy Milton and his Solid Senders, the fastest rising comet in the music heaven, has maintained his place as one of the top ten stylists. Milton has packed theaters and dance floors all over the country and their exclusive Specialty recordings maintain a high spot on record reviews weekly.

Don't fail to hear "Mr. Blues Himself" and "His Solid Senders" when they appear at the Sunset in a two-star attraction on Sunday nite, March 26. Advance tickets are now on sale in your neighborhood.

NITE LIFE... ...IN N.Y.

By AL MOSES

NEW YORK (ANP) — JOSH WHITE, 20th-Century balladist whose songs touch on the plight of his people, did well in his appearance Sunday, in a folk song recital at the Kaufmann auditorium in the 92nd street YMCA. THELMA CARPENTER, as great a singer as any before the public for our vote, has checked her bags into Cate Society where she will remain for several weeks. Doubling-in-brass these pre-Spring evenings is tempestuous and gifted PEARL BAILEY who on March 2 picked up her booking at Greenwich Village inn while performing her usual role in the Broadway starring vehicle "Arms and the Girl."

Frank Etheridge sent us a card from South Carolina where he is on tour with a USO group; the postman also brought welcome mail from Harry N. Wiley Jr., member of champion Ray Robinson's entourage. It was from Orlando, Fla. — The rediscovery of JUANITA HALL (South Pacific) and ETHEL WATERS (Member of the Wedding), encourages our weekly fight for professional theatre engagements for Percy Verwayen and Jack Carter. Both of these topnotchers read many scripts, but in some strange manner just miss the parts that mean the difference between fat paychecks and continued unemployment.

Casey Shorts, bigwig of the Musicians club, says that it is true that Arthur Paris, comes into Joe Wells (during March) sweeping a new broom, in so far as old employees are concerned, under a one-year contract drawn up by a well-known mid-town attorney? Time will tell on this as it always does we say. — After that wild news story that broke in every major colored and white paper, PEARL BAILEY, singing comedienne in "Arms and the Girl", has been promoted to the position of co-star with NANETTE FABRAY and GEORGES GUETARY. She will remain with the show through May, 1950. The crowds at SHALIMAR, Red Randolph's eating retreat near 123rd Street on 7th Avenue has taken much of the trade the better white restaurants boasted of up to a season ago.

Mother,
Mattie Blackwell.

WILLIAMS—In sad but loving remembrance of our husband and father, Mr. James Williams, who departed this life 6 years ago, March 6, 1944. The call was sudden The shock severe. We little thought such grief was near. But while he lies in peaceful sleep His memory we shall always keep.
The Williams Family.

DIXON—In loving memory of my husband, Edward Dixon, who passed away three years ago, March 8, 1947. Since you went away and I remain I want to know each step you take That I may walk the same. For some day down that lonely road You'll hear me call your name. So much happiness we have had Our cup of joy and memories are One gift of God that death cannot destroy.
Wife and Children.

BOYCE—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mary Boyce, who passed away 13 years ago, March 13, 1937. From this world of pain and sorrow

To the land of peace and rest God has taken our dear mother Where she finds eternal rest. It is loneliness here without you, Sad and weary is the way Life has not been the same, dear mother, Since you were called away.

THE 3 MOST POPULAR HAIR DO'S

PAGE BOY . . . This most useful hair piece blends in with your own hair and keeps the rough ends even. Fitting from ear to ear and shoulder length, the Page Boy makes your new hair length look as natural that no one can tell the difference. . . . $3.00

GLAMOUR PAGE BOY CLUSTER . . . $8.50

This back of the head cluster can be worn in eight other styles as a cluster or plain. You do away with the use of hot irons, thereby giving your hair time to regain its strength.

THE HALF GLAMOUR. When it is length you want, the Half Glamour fits your taste. As you see, it fastens at the crown of the head and hangs naturally down the back. You can wear it as an up-sweep or any style you like. (It is 15 to 20 inches long). . . . $10.00

MOTHER TIRED AND WEARY WAITING ON FAMILY
"For years I have written you when I would get to a cross road. I need help now. I am working myself to death and I am just tired of being a waitress to my family. They don't seem to appreciate me at all. Would I do better just to leave things undone here and get me a job and work out? April 3, 1910."

Ans.—A mother's efforts are never fully appreciated — and it is not unusual for the family to take it for granted that mother will do everything and they leave it all for her to do. Your children are old enough to wait on themselves. Assign them certain duties and see that they do them. Your family is your heart and joy but you do not necessarily have to be a slave to them.

HOLD RENDEZVOUS WITH PROFESSIONAL MAN?
"Do you think I should seek adventure with this professional man? July 22, 1931."

Ans.—He's out for a big time and isn't making any bones about it — better give him the cold shoulder. A man with honorable intentions will not ask a girl to meet him on the street and insist that their friendship be kept a secret.

SEAMSTRESS WANTS TO EXAND DRESSMAKING SHOP
"Two years ago I opened a little sewing shop and to my surprise I have made wonderful progress. I have had more work than my helper and I could do. I want to know if I should invest in another sewing machine and get another girl to help us. Sept. 4, 1915."

Ans.—Another machine would be a good investment. You have some mighty good customers and they like your work — your business will thrive this year. With the coming of spring, sewing will be more in demand and you can use extra help and a new machine.

FIVE-YEAR ROMANCE WITHERING
"I have been going out of town to see a girl for the past five years. I only get to see her twice a month as it is quite a distance to her place. I am beginning to worry. Is she finding pleasure with someone else or is it my imagination? What should I do? Feb. 6, 1919."

Ans.—The girl is growing weary waiting for you to make up your mind. Yes, she is getting around more with the young people and if you don't make your intentions known in a hurry — she's going to turn her interests toward someone else. This slow-poke five-year romance doesn't go over to well in this day. She's been mighty patient.

very comfortable and liveable. Both of my daughters have married and returned east with their mates and live in the same state. I am dissatisfied out here alone. I want to know if I should sell out and go back east where my friends and relatives are? Dec. 4, 1900."

Ans.— You would be much happier living near your folks. The improvements you made on your place have increased the value of it and you should be able to get a good price were you to sell. When you make the change back east — buy a small, comfortable place of your own as you will be much happier in your own home.
